Stebbins to fight dismissal

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The ousted chairman of the Ohio Industrial Commission has indicated he will fight his removal from office by Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Gregory J. Stebbins, who was dismissed Wednesday by the governor, said, "I intend to waive none of my rights with respect to the holding of the office which I occupy." He has seven days to file a formal appeal.

In announcing his decision, Rhodes accused Stebbins of "inefficiency in office, neglect of duty, misfeasance, malfeasance and nonfeasance." The three-member commission oversees the state's workmen's compensation benefit program.

"I have reviewed the order," Stebbins said, "and while some of the contents of it are vague and non-specific, I am confident that they represent no wrongdoing whatsoever on my part."

"I have always given my best efforts to the people of the State of Ohio as a member of the Industrial Commission, and I am quite sure that there is no cause for my removal," he said.

Rhodes said his office had conducted an investigation of Stebbins based on questions raised in newspaper reports and at legislative hearings and "statements from private citizens."

The accusations range from a questionable personal real estate transaction to alleged approval of disability claims on behalf of dead persons.

Stebbins, a Democrat and former Ohio AFL-CIO official, was appointed to the industrial commission in 1972 by former Gov. John J. Gilligan. His term was to have expired in August 1977.

TV Viewing

NEW YORK (AP) — On Sunday, ABC is airing the first episode of "Eleanor and Franklin," a dramatization of the life of Eleanor Roosevelt and her 40-year marriage to the man who led America through World War II, Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The show runs two hours, as does Monday's finale. We took an advance look at the first installment, found it mighty boring and withdrew to pray that the second show exhibits signs of life.

The only pluses in Sunday's saga are fine costuming, excellent photography and a brilliant acting job by Jane Alexander, cast as Eleanor Roosevelt from age 18 to 60.

I think the basic problem is that the show is based on Joseph P. Lash's book, "Eleanor and Franklin," which in paperback form runs 904 pages in narrative alone.

I don't care if it won a Pulitzer Prize, the book is so laden with minutiae that reading it is an experience akin to running the Boston Marathon in concrete galoshes.

James Costigan's adaptation of it for TV gives the same experience, at least in Sunday's show, which covers Eleanor's childhood, her first meeting with Franklin and their wedding in 1905.

The proceedings begin in April 1945 in Washington, D.C., when she gets word of her husband's death at the presidential retreat in Warm Springs, Ga.

Upon arriving there, she learns that one of the persons with him when he died was an old flame, Lucy Rutherford, with whom he had a romance in the late 1900s when the lady was Eleanor's social secretary.

Then, with occasional flashbacks to a scene of Eleanor sitting alone in a room near the bed in which her dead husband lies, the show launches into her painful early years as the daughter of the troubled Elliot Roosevelts. It is a very slow launch.

MacKenzie Phillips portrays the young Eleanor, and is awfully good at appearing morose. Ted Eccles plays young Franklin briefly and rather well, despite such lines as, "It's beastly hot in here. What do you say we go out on the porch?"

This comes when he first takes an interest in her at a dance held by another member of the wealthy and large Roosevelt clan.

The show improves only when Miss Alexander arrives to portray Eleanor in her late teens at yet another dance where she again sees and comes to love FDR, played from then on by Edward Herrman.

Herrman effectively captures Roosevelt's jaunty air, but the dialogue assigned him is so upper-crust camp and vacuous I'm surprised he didn't bound into a room and say, "Tennis, anyone?"

Wife can't sue for damages

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — A wife cannot sue for damages for injuries sustained by her husband prior to their marriage, a Butler County Common Pleas Court judge has ruled.

Judge Fred B. Cramer said there is no record of such a case on the books in Ohio. He eliminated the $15,000 loss-of-services claim made Celeste Pharis, Seven Mile, Ohio, in a suit filed with her husband, James.

The husband's claim for $35,000 against two fellow construction workers was continued. He charged Robert Callahan and Roy Chambers, Okeana, Ohio, were negligent in building a scaffolding in December 1972. Pharis said he suffered back injuries when it fell two months before the wedding.

Cramer said the court can not permit a person to "marry into a cause of action."

The Ohio Legislature took the initial step in March of 1836 to determine the geological structure and resources of the state. The actual survey was finally ordered in March of 1837.

Secretive about travel

Whenever a session of Congress ends there is a flurry of journalistic excitement about lawmakers' trips abroad at the taxpayers' expense. There is sound reason for the implied concern in these stories. For the fact is that, while some of the congressional travel has a clean and significant legislative purpose, some of it smells more like junketing.

Congress itself is no help in providing information that would help voters make up their minds about the legitimacy of travel by their representatives in Congress. On the contrary, the Senate and House tend to be secretive.

That attitude emerges from this passage in a United Press International story about the matter: "The State Department's Congressional Travel Office, which usually arranges travel and accommodations will furnish no information on trips, citing the 'wishes of Congress.'

"After all, it's their money and their business," said a State Department official. Isn't it really the people's money and the people's business? 'We just do what we're told,' the State Department man said. 'They control our appropriations.'" Exclamation point.

The Angolan dilemma

To resume our investigation of the Angolan dilemma, let us - for openers - start with the proposition that there is no Angola any more than there was a Laos. The Portuguese settlers, who ran the colonial system, are back in their homeland, and, in administrative terms, there now is probably a better infrastructure at the Copley Plaza hotel in Boston than there is in the former Portuguese colony. Nor is there an Angolan "nation": There is a population composed of roughly 40 per cent Owambundu, near the border of Southwest Africa or Namibia; perhaps a third Bakongo, related to fellow tribesmen next door in Zaire; and the rest of the "citizenry" are scattered among other tribes. Jonas Savimbi's National Union for the Total Independence of Angola (UNITA) is based on the Owambundu; Holden Roberto's National Front for the Liberation of Angola (FLNA) on the Bakongo. Their dedication to democratic values is questionable.

However, the real trouble arose because the Portuguese pro-Communist governor general, Admiral Rosa Coutinho, decided, with the support of the then leftist-dominated Armed Forces Movement in Lisbon, to turn Angola over to the Popular Movement for the Liberation of Angola (MPLA) led by Dr. Agostinho Neto, who paradoxically is an "assimilado," an Angolan considered sufficiently civilized to have received Portuguese citizenship.

Whether he is a "Marxist" or not is open to question - I have met a number of Third World "Marxists" who never got through the "Communist Manifesto" - but he has received vigorous arms support from Moscow, military cadres from Castro, and clearly has totalitarian intentions. The Portuguese were also good enough to turn over to him 4,000 Katangese mercenaries, who were in their service after failing to separate the rich province of Katanga from Zaire!

OTHER PLAYERS

A look at the other players makes life even more confusing. President Mobutu Sese Seko of Zaire, backing the FNLA, has his covetous eye on the oil-rich enclave of Cabinda, surrounded by Zaire but run by Angola. President Kenneth Kuanda of Zambia, also supporting FNLA, does not want the vital rail link between his landlocked country and the Angolan port of Benguela to fall under Communist control. The Republic of South Africa wants the southern area of Angola in safe hands: It contains hydroelectric installations that provide the juice for southwest Africa. And Peking has taken a hand in the game, training FNLA recruits in Zaire - although to make life more complex this mission has recently been taken over by North Koreans.

To this weird coalition we must, of course, add the United States C.I.A., which by a triple hand-off (Belgium to Zaire to the FNLA) provided military aid. The C.I.A.'s role has touched off a tidal wave of pious rhetoric in the Senate, which has featured the vicious alliance with South Africa as a factor which will once and for all destroy our standing with the black Africans. (At the moment the Senate has prohibited the use of further U.S. funds; the House will not take the issue up until after the recess.)

TO BE NOTED

I despise "apartheid" and the Afrikaaners who enforce it, but what South Africa's critics fail to note is that the former French colonies in Africa have never objected to France's providing Pretoria with arms. Or the interesting fact that Zambia is getting $800 million worth of oil from Iran through a disguised South African loan. Or that the "Marxists" running Mozambique still provide the harbor of Lourenco Marques as a major port for South African trade and get their electric power from over the border. Moreover, the C.I.A. first intervened at the request of Presidents Mobutu and Kuanda, who surely knew that the South Africans were not going to watch the game from a box seat.

What this all adds up to is a shambles. I certainly don't want a Communist dictatorship in Angola, which has great untapped resources and a strategic location, but neither do I want a precipitous display of American machismo. Furthermore, despite the presence of Castro's cadre of 4000-5000 and all that fancy Soviet hardware, this is not going to be a blitzkrieg. Already one faction of the "Marxist" MPLA has changed sides, and I'd like to see things shake down a good deal more before we announce we are in a "test of wills" with the U.S.S.R. over the future of Africa. It's fine to put some heat on Moscow, but when it comes to U.S. intervention, the non-state of Angola is well down the list of priorities from Germany, Japan, or Israel.

Cleveland senator seeks Ohio glue sniffing bill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A central city legislator from Cleveland wants the Ohio Senate to do something about glue sniffing, a problem he describes as "the poor kids' high."

"Glue sniffing is the poor kids' way of getting high, but its consequences are tragic and deadly," said Sen. Charles L. Butts, D-23 Cleveland. "While glue-sniffing might sound somewhat innocent, the fumes from the glue literally destroy brain cells."

Butts readily agreed that harmful hard drugs were a serious problem in core areas, but he said glue — usually the model airplane variety — was "cheap and available."

His bill, introduced earlier this week, would outlaw the sale of glue unless it contained a noxious additive designed to make users sick before they get high from inhaling fumes.

The reaction of nausea would not be "permanent or dangerous," he said.

Butts also wants to crack down on unscrupulous dealers who he claims cater to young users in Cleveland, selling glue "complete with the appropriately-sized paper bag."

The legislation would make it illegal to sell glue when there is reason to believe the product will be abused.

Although it might be difficult to enforce, Butts argues such a law would at least give police authority to keep tabs on suspect retailers.

"This puts some of the burden on store owners to try and clean things up," he said.

Under Ohio law, glue is classified as a harmful intoxicant and using it for the purpose of getting high is a misdemeanor.

However, a spokesman for Atty. Gen. William J. Brown said the two key provisions of Butts' bill were not considered last year when the legislature enacted a wide-ranging new drug law.

Butts said several other states had gotten good results from laws similar to the one he is proposing.

"Hopefully, this effective anti-glue sniffing bill can win quick approval here in the legislature," he said.

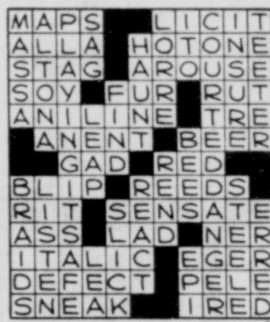

The most complete skeleton of a mammoth, ancestor of the elephant, is in Orton Hall of Ohio State University. It was unearthed near Catawba in Clark County. The university also has the skeleton of a mastodon found at Grove City near Columbus.

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Businessman needs

crash course in ABC's

DEAR ABBY: Is it possible to teach a 51-year-old man to speak correct English? Joe (not his real name) went only as far as the fifth grade, and his grammar is terrible.

I have corrected him in private, but he makes the same mistakes repeatedly in public, which I find very embarrassing.

Most of my friends are well educated (so am I), and when Joe and I are in their company, I keep hoping he won't talk much because he is sure to say, "He don't" or, "We was."

He is a fine-looking man of good character who has made a remarkable success in business, but this one fault is too big to overlook.

I guess what I really want to know is: Can a 51-year-old man who is smart in money matters learn proper grammar at his age? Or is it too late?

JOE'S LADY FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: A smart person can learn anything he wants to learn if he's sufficiently motivated. The questions here are, "Does JOE think he needs to learn? And if not, how important is this fault to YOU?"

DEAR ABBY: My wife, and I recently moved into a new home. We love the place, but we're having trouble with our landlord.

He keeps dropping in unexpectedly. I have told him several times that he is welcome anytime, but to please telephone first.

Tonight at 10 p.m., this landlord came over to introduce us to his son! I was in my undershorts watching TV on our bed, and my wife wasn't dressed, either. That nifty man used his passkey and walked right into our bedroom!

Abby, we like our privacy, but how do you tell a man who is 45 years older than you are to please be a little more respectful of your privacy without seeming disrespectful to him?

STATEN ISLANDER

DEAR ISLANDER: Get a "Do Not Disturb" sign and hang it outside your door. If he drops by unexpectedly again, "respectfully" point it out to him.

DEAR ABBY: I have a question I'll bet many secretaries would like to have answered.

In this day of no discrimination and Women's Lib, etc., how does one address a letter to an office of mixed sexes?

It used to be correct to say, "Gentlemen," or "Sirs," even though the writer knew there were women in the office.

My boss suggested that I write to "Dear Abby" for a real good answer.

SECRETARY OVER 40

DEAR OVER: Try "To whom it may concern." If that strikes you as being too impersonal, how about "Ladies and Gentlemen?" If that's too formal, skip the salutation (it doesn't mean anything, anyway) and get right on with the message.

The Serpent Deceives Eve

And the serpent said unto the woman, Ye shall not surely die.
 for God doth know that in the day ye eat thereof... ye shall be
 as gods. — Genesis 3: 4-5

After God had created the earth and then Man to rule its every creature, the lot of Adam was his prime concern. And thus it was that in time He mused, "It is not good that the man should be alone." So, putting him to sleep, he took one of Adam's ribs and from it created Eve, the mother of all mankind. Then, in the midst of the earthly paradise called Eden, He adjured the couple to enjoy the fruits of all the trees save one. "Ye shall not eat of it," He said, "neither shall ye touch it, lest ye die." But came a serpent (the personification of evil) and, with diabolic wile, tempted Eve. Promised omniscience if she would but eat the fruit, Eve yielded—and ate.

Minister watches Soviet religion

AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A friend in Zurich, Switzerland, through telephone contact with another friend in Moscow, relayed word to the Rev. Blahoslav Hruby in New York this week that an outspoken, suspended Russian priest had now been fired from his job as a church caretaker.

That the information made its cir-cuitous way at once to the Rev. Mr.
 Hruby was typical of the continuous, variously devised vigilance he maintains on the treatment of religion in Communist-ruled countries.

It's a unique service, carried on almost single-handedly by a man who personally kept a jump ahead both of Nazi and Communist foes in wartime Europe, broadcast on Free France radio, gathered intelligence for the U.S.
 Office of Strategic Services and has myriad, closely guarded sources of information across Europe.

"One way or another, the documents get to me," he says. "Sometimes I don't know all the details of how, and don't want to know because it might jeopardize someone. But we get them."

The Rev. Mr. Hruby, 64, a Czech-born naturalized American and for 14 years editor of the monthly, "Religion in Communist-Dominated Areas," has long been a familiar figure at church gatherings, prodding the churches to speak out against instances of Communist repression of faith.

The "implacable cold warrior," some church officials call him. But they recognize his expertise and respect his passion for religious freedom. Last month, his spadework provided the catalyst for drawn-out ferment at the assembly of the World Council of Churches in Nairobi, Kenya
 — even though he wasn't there.

But what was there was a letter from two Russian Orthodox churchmen in Moscow, protesting religious persecution and urging the World Council to challenge it — a letter that had made its roundabout way to Hruby, been translated from the Russian by his wife, Olga, and relayed to various officials and others at the assembly.

The letter precipitated a landmark action — the global in-terdenominational body's first outright criticism of religious restrictions in Communist-ruled Eastern Europe, and the launching of a plan to keep a regular eye on conditions for religion there.

"I'm happy it worked out, even if I wasn't there in person," the Rev. Mr.
 Hruby said in an interview. "The churches must help those who are being harassed because of their faith, and they must tell the truth to the world."

It's a cause to which he has devoted himself ever since he was forced to flee Hitler's military occupation of Czechoslovakia and France. Later, after ordination to the Presbyterian ministry in this country, he served as an OSS captain in Europe from 1942 to 1947 as the Soviet Union extended its sphere over the East.

"I saw so much under Hitler's dictatorship and what happened under the Communists," he said. "I watched it with my own eyes, and it's still happening. We cannot remain silent. I'm afraid we're under the spell of 'Munich' style appeasement, which betrayed
 Europe to Hitler, and now people are so

Bible scholar to give speech

Dr. Bernard Northrup, professor of Old Testament literature and languages at Baptist Bible Seminary in Clarks Summit, Pa., will be the guest speaker Sunday at the Fayette Bible Church. Dr. Northrup who received his doctor of theology degree at Dallas Seminary, taught for six years at Dallas Bible College in Dallas, Tex., thirteen years at the San Francisco Baptist Seminary, and four years at the Baptist Bible Seminary in Pennsylvania.

He is a member of the Creation Research Society of America, and has done extensive studies in geology and the research of fossil remains. He has headed a number of geological tours throughout the United States and Canada for the Bible Science Association of America. Numerous meetings and lecture series in Israel, Mexico, Puerto Rico, and Peru have been organized during past summers by Dr. Northrup.

During the evening service, Dr.
 Northrup will show slides dealing with the subject of creation.

INDIANA EVANGELIST — A revival meeting is scheduled to be held during the week of January 14 through 18, 7:30 p.m. nightly at the Wesleyan Bible Church, 802 E. Paint
 St. Featured as evangelist will be the Rev. Juddie Peyton of Bedford, Indiana. The program will include singing and preaching. Pastor Robert M. Pratt is in charge of events for the week.

much brainwashed by the rhetoric of detente which approves of all Russia's conquests and oppression. To me, it's a fraud.

"But there still is a spirit of resistance in the free world — a resistance to the pressures of the Communist bloc not only on religious freedom but on political and national freedoms."

The Rev. Mr. Hruby, a balding, bespectacled man, works in offices at 475 Riverside Drive here, turning out his unusual periodical, packed with smuggled documents, details of religious restrictions, protests and samplings of Soviet antireligious cartoons and articles.

He carried material about the pleas for religious liberty of Soviet writer
 Alexander Solzhenitsyn and physicist
 Andre Sakharov long before they won Nobel prizes and gained the attention of the world.

The publication has a circulation only of about 3,000, but it's a valued resource to several embassies, intelligence offices, the Pentagon and other federal agencies, as well as to numerous universities and research centers.

It originally was sponsored by the National Council of Churches, which ceased doing so in 1971, leaving the Rev. Mr. Hruby to scrounge for backing among individual supporters, which still include the Lutheran World Federation, the United Presbyterian Church and U.S. Orthodox church bodies.

"It's difficult," he said. "But thank God, we survive."

He's regularly attacked in the Communist press, as he was this past summer by "Tribuna" in his native
 Czechoslovakia where his mother, 89, still lives and whom he hasn't been able to visit since 1949.

Cathedral-1976 floribunda

CATHEDRAL - is an All-American Rose Selections Award Winner now available at local nurseries.

Winner of six other international awards, CATHEDRAL has rich golden apricot buds that open into large 15-18 petaled, ruffled blooms of softer apricot with exciting salmon tints as the flower matures.

Small fragrant clusters of five to seven blooms are ideal for cutting and are long-lasting in the home. The clusters nestle against glossy olive-green foliage on a hardy, particularly mildew-resistant bushy plant, making a perfect contrast to the brilliant hue of the blooms. Repeat blooms provide a constant show all season long.

CATHEDRAL makes an excellent foreground plant because of its low compact growth to a 30" height, screening the bases of other roses placed behind it. Used en masse, it becomes a bold stroke of color without shutting off the beauty of the more distant landscape.

Born and bred on the misty Emerald Isle, CATHEDRAL is a product of the famous Irish hybridizer, Sam McGredy, IV. The floribunda has already won the Gold Medal of the City of Portland, Oregon; a Trial Ground Certificate of the Royal National Rose Society of England; Certificate of Merit, Japan; Certificate of Merit, Rouleux, Belgium; Silver Medal, Baden Baden, Germany; and the Gold Star of the South Pacific, New Zealand, as well as the AARS 1976 Award. It is being introduced in this country by Roses by Red Edmunds, Wilsonville, Oregon, and is available at nurseries everywhere.

Choose summer bulbs

You probably aren't doing a whole lot of thinking about gardens and flowers and such these days. But believe it or not, now is the time to decide about your summer flowering bulbs — and depending on your flower choice, you can start planting as early as January.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has a booklet that gives you tips on how to select and care for summer flowering bulbs so you'll be a successful gardener. For a copy of Summer Flowering Bulbs send 25 cents to Consumer Information Center, Dept. 82, Pueblo, Colorado 81009.

Here are some highlights for you: Select healthy, mature bulbs. This means a bulb that is firm and with an unblemished skin.

If you buy bulbs before planting time, keep them in a cool, dry area. A temperature of 60 to 65 degrees is cool enough to prevent most bulbs from drying out until you plant them.

Before you prepare the new flowerbeds, test the drainage of the soil. Dig a hole about a foot deep and fill it with water. The next day, fill the hole with water again, and see how long it remains. If the water drains away in 8 to 10 hours, the soil will drain well enough for planting. If the water stays in the hole after 10 hours, you'll need to improve the drainage. You can do this by digging furrows along the sides of the future flower bed, and adding the soil from the furrows to the bed.

Summer Flowering Bulbs (25 cents) is one of over 250 selected Federal

consumer publications listed in the Winter edition of the Consumer Information Index. Published quarterly by the Consumer Information Center of the General Services Administration, you can get a free copy of the Index by writing Consumer Information Center, Pueblo, Colo. 81009.

The dance will be open to the public and disc jockey Joe Kelley from WLW, Cincinnati, will be the main guest providing music, ranging from the 1950's to 1970's. All profits from the dance will be used for the pediatrics department in conjunction with the Fayette Memorial Hospital.

CAROLINA YAM MEATLOAF adds the mellow flavor of yams to a budget classic. The highly nutritious vegetable binds and extends ground beef to make it stretch further.

A versatile vegetable -- sweet Carolina yams

The yam is a versatile vegetable — its mellow taste and texture prevail whether it's boiled, baked, browned, fried or candied. It lends itself to all kinds of recipes, from sweetpotato desserts to bread and muffins, and it can be easily used to make a meatloaf more interesting and nutritious.

Sweet Carolina yams are available in greatest volume from now through April, so they're in peak supply and a good buy. The best yams are chunky, medium-sized ones which taper toward the ends, with smooth, unscarred skins and a firm texture.

Yams can bind and extend meat; in Carolina Yam Meatloaf, they also live up to a weekly classic for the budget-conscious family. For a fancier version, try the Carolina Yam Pinwheel Meatloaf. Cooked mashed yams are spread over a ground beef mixture shaped into a rectangle. The combination is rolled and baked; when the loaf is cut, the yams circle in colorful pinwheel contrast.

In addition to their culinary virtuosity, yams are very nourishing; it is reported that the natives of western New Guinea's highlands live almost entirely on them. As a vegetable high in vitamins A and C and with a good amount of other vitamins and minerals, yams are said to be one of the most complete foods known. With so many benefits — nourishment, economy, year-round availability, and the many ways they can be used — yams are indeed versatile.

CAROLINA YAM MEATLOAF

3 cups shredded pared North Carolina yams (about 2 medium yams)
1 1/2 pounds ground beef
1/2 cup finely chopped fresh onion
1/4 cup finely chopped fresh green pepper
1 tomato, peeled and chopped
1 egg, slightly beaten
2 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon ground pepper
Shred yams on coarse grater, place in a bowl, cover with boiling water and let stand 10 minutes, until soft. Drain well. Combine with remaining ingredients in bowl; mix well. Pat mixture into 8 x 4-inch loaf pan or shape into loaf in shallow baking pan. Bake in 350 F. oven 45 minutes. Let stand 5 minutes before serving. Makes: 6 to 8 servings.

CAROLINA YAM PINWHEEL MEATLOAF

2 cups mashed cooked North Carolina yams (2 large yams)
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 small fresh onion, chopped
1 clove garlic, crushed
1 teaspoon dried leaf marjoram
1 1/2 teaspoons salt, divided
1 egg, slightly beaten
1/4 cup milk
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 pound ground beef
Wash yams and place in saucepan. Add water to cover and simmer 25 to 30 minutes, until tender. Drain, peel and mash. Melt butter in skillet; add onion, garlic and marjoram, and cook until onion is tender. Add mashed yams, 1/2 teaspoon salt and mix well. Combine egg, milk, pepper and remaining 1/2 teaspoon salt in bowl; add ground beef

Distinctively Adairs . . .

THE WOODMARK CHAIR

If you've been looking at chairs, you know what's happening to prices. Well, Adairs found a man, Elliot Wood, who has succeeded in doing something about the high price of quality chairs.

His company is WOODMARK, and they have a factory designed from the ground up to produce upholstered chairs, and only upholstered chairs. The first of its kind ever. A specialization that streamlines production to cut every cost except the quality of construction materials and fabrics.

The result is a chair that in our opinion is comparable to chairs costing almost twice as much. Most Woodmark chairs, covered in finer quality fabrics can be purchased from only $229 to $279. There are over 40 styles and more than 250 decorative fabrics to choose from.

These are chairs you can't buy just anywhere, and we are pleased to be Woodmark's headquarters in this part of Ohio.

Woodmark value — another reason why people come to Adairs, not only from the Clinton-Fayette County area, but from all over Ohio, and northern Kentucky. There's a lot of truth in that better mousetrap story. Come in and see why we're so pleased to be able to offer our customers the Woodmark Chair.

Huntington Bank offers film of Ohio's history

"A Change of Worlds," a bicentennial film telling the story of Ohio's history in the last 200 years, is now available through Huntington Banks. The full-color, 28-minute motion picture is the official film of the Ohio American Revolution Bicentennial Advisory Commission and was made possible through a grant from Huntington Banks.

According to Richard E. Whiteside, president of The Huntington Bank of Washington Court House, the film is available to schools, clubs, churches and community groups for showings on a reservation basis by contacting any Huntington Bank. In addition, a filmstrip telling how the film was made will be given to all school districts in Ohio for their permanent use.

"Huntington Banks is proud to be a part of this meaningful bicentennial effort," said Arthur D. Herrmann, president of Huntington Bancshares, Inc.

"A Change of Worlds," filmed throughout the State of Ohio, is told in an entertaining yet historically factual way, with a serious bicentennial theme. It depicts basic human values, such as love and integrity, enduring despite rapidly developing material concerns.

In the film, designed for viewers of all ages, the spirit of Tecumseh, sister of the Great Indian Chief Tecumseh, comes to life after 200 years. She is granted a brief bicentennial visit by Moneto, the Creator, but she can be seen and heard by only one person, a young college history student named Wil. As they travel to many points of interest in Ohio, Wil explains some of the changes that have taken place during the past two centuries.

A prologue and epilogue are presented by George Chakiris, a native Ohioan who received an Academy Award for this performance in "West Side Story". The film stars Diana Bilek, a full-blooded Indian, as Tecumseh and Howard Pinhasik as Wil.

Any group or organization interested in obtaining the film may contact Whiteside at the Huntington Bank for further information.

DEAF program aired on television

Those who did not watch the Monday night news cast on Channel 10-TV, Columbus, missed an opportunity to see a visual illustration of the Deaf Educational Assistance Facility (DEAF) at work in Fayette County.

A five-minute television broadcast depicted members of the organization performing those tasks which embody DEAF's goal to inform the public of the difficulties present in the lives of deaf people, and their ability to overcome such problems.

Scenes of Miss Janet Duvall, founder and president of DEAF and an employee of Agrico Chemical Co., communicating with fellow worker Bill Rodgers were shown. Rodgers, who works with the atomic absorption machine in the laboratory, has been deaf since childhood.

The camera then moved to the Sheriff's Department where Deputy Sheriff Kenneth Hahn was seen communicating with the deaf by way of an emergency teletypewriter (TTY). The narrator explained that this is a machine which allows both parties (if the particular deaf person has a similar set-up) to send and receive typed messages to each other over a common telephone line.

Since its founding in Nov., 1974, DEAF has been granted a charter to operate statewide. The organization provides job referral service and other aids to assist the deaf in getting along with life's tasks.

Though DEAF is branching out to other counties, Miss Duvall, who is not deaf herself, stresses that, "We want to meet the obligations of the deaf here at home first." Currently, there are 56 deaf people in Fayette County and 210 others who have hearing impediments.

Both Miss Duvall and Hahn have instructed various law enforcement courses dealing with the interaction between police and the deaf, and at present they hold classes devoted to the teaching of sign language to those who are interested.

Cincinnati artist sets Wilmington exhibition

WILMINGTON — The fourth show in the 1975-76 Wilmington College Professional Exhibition Series will begin Sunday, January 11 and continue through Friday, February 20. It will feature weavings, drawings, and lithographs by the artist, Rosalea, of Cincinnati.

The exhibit will be shown in the College's Boyd Auditorium Gallery. Hours are 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday. The Gallery is closed each Saturday.

There is no admission charge.

A reception for the artist will be held in the Gallery from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday, January 11. Rosalea received a B.F.A. degree in Design from the University of Kansas in 1965. She also attended Bethel College, North Newton, Kan.; Goshen College, Goshen, Ind.; the Wichita Art Association School and the Kansas City Art Academy.

Rosalea grew up in Kansas, the daughter of a Mennonite farmer and saw her first movie at the age of 19. She has become well-known in Kansas and Oklahoma for her program of distributing, at no charge, small lithographs, she has designed, each about one-inch square.

Each of the tiny lithographs is printed in yellow and black and carries this inscription on the back: "Rosalea was here and left this miniature print for the finder's enjoyment. Look for others in unusual places throughout the country. You may want to collect and trade them. This is a gift; it is not to be sold by anyone. Limited edition of 1900. Copyrighted Rosalea Hostetler 1975 c-o Rosalea's Hotel, Harper, Kansas 67058."

The little prints are apt to be found almost anywhere — in stores, restaurants, phone booths, or in friends' homes. It is Rosalea's way of protesting the lack of appreciation for living artists, saying that if people won't buy her work, she'll give it away, in small size.

She feels this program gets people talking about art — the first step, perhaps, toward appreciating it.

Fox drive held by Jeff Lions

JEFFERSONVILLE — The Jeffersonville Lions Club held its annual fox drive Dec. 27 and club president Fred Stires called the event a success with Bob Wright shooting one fox.

A soup, bean and cornbread dinner was served to the hunters in the club's new building.

Earlier in the month the Lions held their annual Christmas party.

The Lions and their families enjoyed a ham and turkey dinner prepared by Lee Montcastle and the Lions wives. After the dinner Santa Claus visited and the guest speaker, Emerson Marting, an area auctioneer and farmer, spoke on the opportunities for young people in America.

Compromise averts IMF deadlock

KINGSTON, Jamaica (AP) — The United States and other industrialized nations have agreed to a compromise plan to increase lending to poor nations, averting a deadlock at a high-level meeting of the International Monetary Fund here.

Under the plan hammered out at a dinner meeting of finance ministers Wednesday night, about $3 billion more will be made available for lending to all nations, with a major share for underdeveloped countries, as part of the IMF's regular lending program.

The plan is part of a package of financial and monetary reforms that is expected to receive the final approval of the IMF's interim committee at a meeting today.

U.S. Treasury Secretary William E. Simon was the last holdout against the expanded lending plans, claiming they were not needed and would add to worldwide inflation. But he told reporters Wednesday night, "We'll finalize the agreement tomorrow as I promised you."

Denis Healey, the British finance minister, said the ministers were in "total agreement on everything."

It appeared that the United States went along with the compromise lending program to get approval for other parts of the package it wanted, including the sale of IMF gold, a new system of foreign exchange rates and expanded contribution quotas for the 128 member nations of the IMF.

WC professor to be honored

WILMINGTON — Martin G. Giesbrecht, Professor and Chairman of the Department of Economics and Business Administration at Wilmington College, has been invited to become a Founding Member of the Economics Section of the Ohio Academy of Science.

Giesbrecht, who is the author of The Evolution of Economic Society (1973), has been a Wilmington faculty member since 1958. He also serves as a director of the Ohio Association of Economists and Political Scientists.

This past summer he was selected to join 19 physicists and engineers from across the nation at Stanford University to brainstorm a design for constructing habitable environments for human space colonies. This project, conducted at the Ames Research Center, was sponsored by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) and the American Society for Engineering Education.

Spray halts tree damage

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — A three-year spraying program has resulted in the control of a tree-killing disease which has held down natural rubber production in Brazil, the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. announced Thursday.

Winter spraying of standard American fungicides on trees of the firm's 10,000-acre Brazilian plantation has controlled the South American leaf blight disease, said Jack Riedl, general manager of Goodyear's rubber division.

He said the disease, which attacks the leaves of young rubber trees, had virtually wiped out the plantation in the mid-1960s.

Control of the disease could make Brazil, which now produces less than one per cent of the world's natural rubber, a major competitor of the Far East where most of the world's natural rubber is grown, he added.

Last year, the September yield of the plantation was up 75 per cent and the October yield was up 78 per cent, compared with those of the preceding year, Riedl said.

Students protest tuition increase

KENT, Ohio (AP) — Students protesting a recent tuition increase interrupted Kent State University trustees Thursday who at their meeting approved collective bargaining with the faculty.

The interruption came before the trustees went into executive session to discuss the bargaining resolution which authorized preliminary discussions with the United Faculty Professional Association which the faculty had selected as its bargaining agent during an October election. The trustees vote on the matter was 5-4.

Between 75 and 150 persons tried to enter the board's meeting room, authorities said.

Appalachian counties growing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — People are moving back to rural Appalachian counties in Ohio and, according to Dr. Donald W. Thomas, unemployment and changing values among city dwellers may have a lot to do with the trend.

Dr. Thomas, an associate professor of agricultural economics and rural sociology, contends the counties now growing by substantial numbers are the very ones that people moved out of during the early 1960s.

Outward migration was to the big cities and high-paying industrial jobs back in the 1960s and the population of urban counties grew by leaps and bounds, he said.

But according to U.S. Census Bureau estimates he studied recently that trend is reversing itself.

Thomas said the urban counties of Cuyahoga (Cleveland), Summit (Akron), Hamilton (Cincinnati), Montgomery (Dayton), Clark (Springfield) and Lucas (Toledo) all have lost population in the last five years, and the predominantly rural counties apparently are gathering in the migrants.

He said, "Adams County down on the Ohio River, for example, had the highest growth rate of any county in the state last year and it's definitely from in-migration, not increased birth rates."

He said, "historically, in times of high inflation and unemployment in this country, urban growth has slowed. The Great Depression of the 1930s was the last big period of rural growth in this country."

"Let's face it, if you were originally from Appalachia, had moved to Cleveland or Detroit to work in auto plants, and suddenly found yourself laid off with little prospect of call-back," he asked, "where would you rather be unemployed—in the city where it's expensive to live, or back home with relatives, where the cost of living isn't nearly as high?"

The changing energy picture, bringing an increased demand for coal, naturally hasn't hurt the Appalachian counties of Ohio, Thomas said. The hike in coal production in rural areas, plus the movement of some major manufacturing plants from urban areas to relatively low-cost rural sections also has been a factor in the population shift, providing more jobs for those leaving the cities, he added.

He said a big factor in the trend toward rural population increases is the change in values among young people. And he cites the numbers of recently married couples brought up in urban areas who want to get out of the city.

"For these people, the suburbs are too expensive and don't really meet their objectives of lower crime rates and a slower paced life." Places they can go to find these things, he said, are in the counties of southern and eastern Ohio. "Such people are apparently willing to accept a slightly lower standard of living, trading income for life in a clean environment with less crime at a rural pace."

Counties in the southern and eastern sections of the state which have shown considerable population growth since 1970 are: Highland, Adams, Pike, Scioto, Jackson, Vinton, Gallia, Meigs, Perry, Morgan, Noble, Muskingum, Guernsey, Belmont, Harrison and Jefferson.

Henry Ford, wife separate

GROSSE POINTE FARMS, Mich. (AP) — Henry Ford II and his wife, Cristina, have separated and are now living apart, Ford's attorney says.

Alan Schwartz, a Detroit attorney who said he represents Ford, refused Thursday to comment on whether divorce proceedings had begun.

The couple was married in February 1965. It was the second marriage for Ford, 58, board chairman of Ford Motor Co. His first marriage to Anne McDonnell Ford ended in divorce in 1964 after 24 years.

Mrs. Ford, 46, is the former Maria Cristina Vettore Austin, an international jet-setter. The couple had no children.

Ford, grandson of auto pioneer Henry Ford, was in the news last February when he was arrested for driving under the influence of alcohol in Goleta, Calif., in the company of a professional model, Kathleen DuRoss, 36. Mrs. Ford was in Katmandu, Nepal, at the time.

Barney Oldfield, the first great driver of racing cars, was born in Wauseon, Ohio, in 1878.

Fraternity house blaze investigated

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A fire official says residents of a fraternity house where two Ohio State University students died Thursday tried to contain a fire that destroyed the structure.

The victims were James Nelson Mitchell, 20, of Washington, Pa. and a 22-year-old woman, tentatively identified as Vicky Lynn Toms, 22, of Farmersville, who was helping 20 other residents escape the three-story Alpha Rho Chi building.

Both died of smoke inhalation, fire officials said tentatively.

Mark F. Heinz, 18, of Toledo was hospitalized in critical condition with severe burns over more than half his body. He was burned as he ran through flames out the rear door of the house.

"There was an initiation ceremony," said Brad Quicksall, a fire department information officer. "They had papers gathered very deep all around the house."

"Part of the ceremony was that after the others (fraternity members) went to bed, pledges were supposed to clean up. They threw papers in a (open) fireplace."

"As often happens when you burn paper in a fireplace, they came out. The kids grabbed the papers and tried to throw them back in. They thought they had all the paper when they saw a couch on fire behind them," Quicksall said. The fire then spread.

"They did everything they could, but there wasn't much to do at the time," he said.

It took two hours, until 4 a.m., for firemen to control the blaze.

Jury hears plant blast claim

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — The attorney for the Rev. David N. Bubar, a Tennessee minister and psychic, told a federal court jury Thursday his client "knew nothing about" the March 1 bombing of the Sponge Rubber Products Co. plant in nearby Shelton.

Bubar is accused of directing eight Pennsylvania men in the placing of explosives at the factory at the request of the company's president, Charles D. Moeller of Cridersville, Ohio. The minister was Moeller's friend and spiritual adviser.

In a three-hour defense summation, attorney Rudolph L. Zalowitz, with Bubar's Bible open in front of him, several times drew parallels between his client's ordeal and that of Jesus Christ shortly before his crucifixion.

The 48-year-old Bubar, of Memphis, who claimed to have used psychic powers to predict the Shelton holocaust, declined to testify in the trial for unspecified religious reasons.

Zalowitz described the government's key witness as a "pathological liar" who was "coached" by the prosecution.

He said the federal government used the "big lie," referring to U.S. Atty. Peter Dorsey's claim that evidence was found in "Bubar's car." The defense attorney pointed out the car belonged to the company and the evidence could have been put there by anyone.

The key witness, John Shaw of Pittsburgh, Pa., testified Bubar told him and other defendants that the "owners" of the plant wanted it destroyed.

The minister was at the plant March 1 to supervise placing of dynamite and gasoline delivered in drums to the building, Shaw added.

Zalowitz did not dispute other testimony that Bubar was at the plant the same day but noted the drums delivered then were the same type as those used to store a harmless chemical used at the plant.

Before Bubar's summation, a lawyer for Donald "Blackie" Connors, 40, of Butler, Pa. described how his client drove a truck allegedly containing the explosives to Shelton but was innocent of any involvement in the plot.

The government has argued the destruction was planned to gain insurance benefits.

Both Connors and Bubar listened intently as their attorneys summed up their defenses. All nine defendants were in court for the second day of defense arguments.

At one point Bubar rose and handed a note to Zalowitz as the lawyer addressed the 12-member jury.

Zalowitz devoted much of the three hours allotted him in describing Bubar's religious background and the faith in the "supreme being" he and his client shared. He gave much less emphasis to his client's claim of innocence.

"Rev. Bubar is going through one of the most unique, perhaps most ex-cruciating, experiences a member of the clergy has gone through since the infamous crucifixion of Jesus Christ," he said.

The minister has a reputation of always giving succor, or help, to others and the government has made him the "sucker" by charging him in the case, the lawyer said.

The jury must decide whether to believe the characterization of Bubar as a "spiritual Christian" or to believe Shaw, "a well prepared, well coached robot (who) testified exactly as the government wished him to," Zalowitz said.

The lawyer described Bubar as being "naive" in relations to the case but did not explain further.

The minister claimed in pretrial testimony he was working on a water-reclamation process at the plant with Moeller's knowledge and had been there March 1 in that connection, not to destroy the plant.

A $35,000 payment from the company to Bubar, which the prosecution claims was to finance the destruction, actually was a gift for water costs saved through Bubar's suggestions, Zalowitz said.

Moeller's defense summation is scheduled for Friday.

Cincy firemen approve contract

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati's 974 firemen Thursday accepted by a 3-to-1 margin a one-year contract calling for a seven per cent salary boost in 1976.

The firemen became the first of three unions representing 6,000 city workers to settle with the city.

Firemen, police and nonuniformed employees have been working without contracts since midnight Dec. 31.

The package provides a pay boost of $957 a year to $14,631, plus a one per cent increase in fringe benefits.

Find man guilty in murder case

MARYSVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Steven Crabtree, 20, of Richmond was found Wednesday guilty of murder following a three-day trial in Union County Common Pleas Court.

Crabtree had been charged in the beating death Sept. 24 of 20-month-old Stacie Jo Shifflet, also of Richmond.

Judge Gwynn Sanders sentenced Crabtree to 15 years to life.

Williamsport man says students not apathetic

Ohio State's board chairman has high regard for students

COLUMBUS — John Dunlap gives the impression he'd be more at home leaning against the railing of the front porch than shifting his large frame in an overstuffed chair in Ohio State University's Faculty Club.

Respectable and ruddy-faced, Ohio State University's chairman of the board of trustees is a nationally recognized agricultural leader. With generations of Dunlaps farming the Scioto Valley before him, John H. Dunlap Jr., of Williamsport, has farmed all his life and now owns or manages 31 farms totaling more than 13,000 acres. He also has a contracting company which specializes in soil conservation, building lakes, ponds, levees, terraces and ditches.

JOHN DUNLAP

He has served on many advisory boards and commissions related to agriculture and natural resources, and in 1967, was named National Wildlife Conservationist of the Year. Appointed an Ohio State University trustee by Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes in 1968, his term will end in 1977.

A 1928 graduate of Ohio State University, Dunlap was active in Scarlet and Mask, treasurer of his senior class and the former student senate, president of Kappa Sigma social fraternity, and a member of the athletic board. He disagrees with the notion that today's students are apathetic by comparison.

"They're wholesome — more honest than we were," he said. "They don't hide what they think, but come right out and say it. Why, you'd be surprised how many phone calls I get from students and parents, telling me what they think about a lot of things. I admire that kind of responsiveness."

"Not that I always agree with them," he added. "And I don't mean I'm right all the time. But I like to think I am," he chuckled.

His regard for students shows in his attitude concerning the possibility of their serving on the board of trustees.

"I'm not against students on the board, although it's not really my prerogative," he said. "We have some awfully good students here. I just don't want to turn the whole thing over to them. We need young ideas, but they should be balanced by experience. I don't want to go off the deep end either way."

What's the most pressing issue the board faces? Without much hesitation, he answered, "I suppose that would be the financial end of it. I'd hate to see fees raised any more."

"Actually, Ohio State is much better off than most of the state supported schools," he continued. "It has a wonderful faculty and administration. Now, president Harold Enarson — he's a whale of a good man. Best friend the students have."

Does he see any indication of student disruption looming in the future?

"No. Back in 1968, there was a sort of viciousness on the part of students — throwing bricks through windows and that kind of thing. I don't think that will happen again. A lot of the issues, such as minority recruiting in the professional schools, will only be solved with time. There's no immediate solution."

What about the seriousness with which students tackle their studies?

"They have it harder now than when I went to school," he said. "More is expected of them, simply because they're better fitted, better equipped to come to school than we were. Television, radio, all the news media have prepared them — sometimes too much, I think."

How does he regard lenient grading systems in the U. S. colleges and universities?

"I guess I'm pretty tough about this second chance business," he said. "Of course, sometimes there are extenuating circumstances, but in general, the business world won't give young people a second chance. It's a pretty cold world out there, and they'd better learn to get it right the first time."

What does he think about the mammoth growth he's witnessed at Ohio State University in recent years?

"I think a university, just like a business, can get too big," he warned, "and I'd say Ohio State is about big enough. Growth is wonderful as long as you keep quality. That's what's important. And I believe Ohio State is managing to balance the two well."

Dunlap served as vice chairman of the trustees in 1972-73 and 1974-75 and also as vice chairman of the board of control of the Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center at Wooster for the same periods. A native of Williamsport, he has been a director of Ohio State's Research Foundation since 1970.

State board eyes measures

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Teacher education at six colleges and universities may be expanded and two religious schools charters are items on the agenda for the state Board of Education this month.

Schools proposing new teacher certification are Ashland College, supervisor and reading supervisor; Baldwin-Wallace College, supervisor, elementary principal and secondary principal; Case Western Reserve, learning disabilities and/or behavior disorders; Miami University, communications; Ohio State University, school nurse, and Otterbein College, earth science.

Charters to be considered Jan. 12 are for Dayton Christian-North school in Dayton and Ramah Junior Academy in Cleveland.

The board also will consider completing assignment of six school districts to two joint vocational schools.

The districts include Amanda-Clearcreek, Berne Union, Bloom Carroll, Fairfield Union, and Walnut Township, all in Fairfield County and all assigned to Tri-County Joint Vocational School District, and Liberty-Benton, Hancock County, assigned to Penta-County JVS.

Designated arrangements for vocational education services were made pending appeal at the November board meeting. Thirty days were granted for appeal of assignments. Liberty Union-Thurston Local in Fairfield County appealed an assignment to Tri-County JVS and a hearing will be held.

Other action to be considered includes allocating work-study funds of $22,462 to 17 school districts; approval to Waterloo and Rootstown local districts in Portage County to seek voter approval of bond issues for $300,000 and $800,000; transferring territory from Lakota Local School District to Fostoria City District, and dissolving the Fairfield Joint Vocational School District.

Johnny Miller has watery woes

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Johnny Miller's fantastic string of successes in the Arizona desert — he had led every round of every tournament in this state since Jan. 12, 1974 — came to a watery and woeful end.

"It was an easy seven," Miller said with a half-hearted reach for humor in a completely humorless situation.

"Not only did I hit it in the water, I had to three-putt on top of it," said Miller, bitterly disappointed, completely subdued, almost in tears and speaking just above a whisper.

All his troubles were centered on the 460-yard, par-four 18th hole of the Tucson National Golf Club course.

In the gathering gloom of late afternoon, Miller went to that final tee needing a birdie to tie journeyman Gibby Gilbert at six-under par 66 for the firstround lead Thursday in the $200,000 Tucson Open.

But Miller pushed his drive to the right in the glimmering water of a man-made lake that has provided so many heartaches in this old event. He finished the hole with a triple bogey, a round of 70 and was four strokes back in the first competitive round of the 1976 pro golf tour.

"It was a terrible shot," Miller said.

"I never thought I would do what I did, but I did it. It just came from out of the blue. I can't believe it."

He tried a little smile. It didn't quite come off.

"But I'm not in bad position. I'll be all right. Really, I played pretty good. I just hit that one bad shot."

But that one shot turned the whole tournament around.

From his customary position among the leaders Miller, record-setting winner of this event the last couple of seasons, suddenly was well back in the pack.

Tom Weiskopf, who became the center of a raging controversy when he missed the cut for the last two rounds of this tournament a year ago, rode a birdie-eagle-par-birdie string to a 67, one stroke back of the leading Gilbert, a consistent money-winner and a one-time winner in seven years of tour activity.

The group at 68, two off the pace and two ahead of Miller, was composed of Dave Hill, Phil Rogers, Curtis Sifford, Larry Nelson, Frank Conner and Jim Simons.

British Open champion Tom Watson was at 70 despite losing four strokes to par over the last four holes.

Lee Trevino matched par 72 despite three three-putts.

Arnold Palmer, now 46 and without an American victory for three years, struggled to a fat 77 and appeared likely to miss the cut for the last two days' activity.

Smith's 51 ruins Phoenix

By The Associated Press

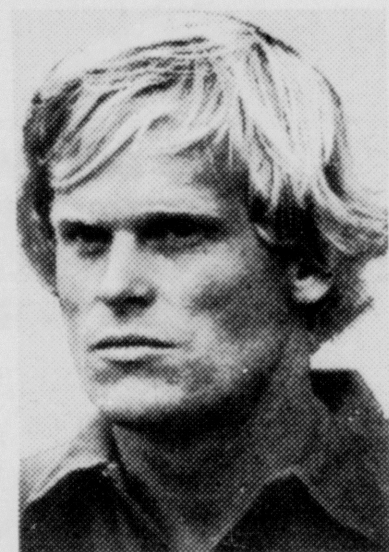

"We might have stopped him with a seven-man line and four linebackers," said Phoenix Coach John MacLeod. Unfortunately, the game was called basketball — Golden State style.

And Phil Smith played it to the hilt. Smith scored 51 points Thursday night in Golden State's 129-113 National Basketball Association romp over the Suns. It was the most points scored this year by an NBA player and, by far, Smith's best night as a pro.

The 6-foot-4 guard out of the University of San Francisco had never scored more than 27 points in a pro game — 34 was his college high. He scored 20 points in the third quarter, when he made all eight of his field goal attempts and scored 16 consecutive Golden State points. At one point, he made 13 straight field goal attempts.

"Someone told me he was making a lot of points," said Golden State Coach Al Attles, "so I wanted to make sure he would get at least 50. They started to get the ball to him and he just made them."

WCH-Circleville set Saturday

SCOL cage games postponed

The Washington C. H. and Miami Trace cage teams will take the night off because of the icy road conditions.

The Blue Lions' contest with Circleville has been rescheduled for Saturday night. The important SCOL game will be played at the Mill Street Gym and it will start at 6:30 p.m.

Miami Trace's game with Greenfield McClain has been tentatively rescheduled for Tuesday evening.

The Unioto-Hillsboro contest was also postponed, but no date has been set yet for the game. The Wilmington-Madison Plains game was still in doubt at press time. Wilmington High School did hold classes today, but Madison Plains was closed and no school officials could be reached on the matter.

By PHIL LEWIS

Record-Herald Sports Editor
After a three-week lull in the South Central Ohio League cage schedule, a full slate of league games will be on tap tonight with the Washington C.H.-Circleville matchup highlighting the action.

Another major contest will pit the Miami Trace Panthers against the Greenfield McClain Tigers. Wilmington, which is tied for second in the league with Washington C.H. and Miami Trace, will take on Madison Plains and Hillsboro will host Unioto.

WASHINGTON AT CIRCLEVILLE

The Blue Lions seem to have ironed out some problems after snapping a two-game losing streak with an impressive win over Hillsboro Tuesday night.

Court House coach Gary Shaffer, who was reportedly displeased with a lack of senior leadership, started juniors Sam McClendon and Dee Foster in place of Chuck Byrd and Scott Sefton against the Indians.

Both former bench warmers answered the call admirably and McClendon tossed in eight points. The high-scoring Byrd, who has been starting for the past three years, came off the bench to toss in 16 points. The two performances could put McClendon and Byrd in the starting backcourt against the league leading Tigers.

Sophomore John Denen and seniors Doug Phillips and Ken Upthegrove should also get Shaffer's starting call. Regardless of who starts at the Mill Street Gym tonight for the Blue Lions, Shaffer's squad will have its hands full with the tough and deliberate Tigers.

The quick feet of guard Mike McCoy, the shooting eye of Biff Bumgarner and the board strength of George Moore have kept the Tigers undefeated this season.

Defense is as important to Circleville as offense, and first-year coach Jim Bailey has tutored his Tigers in the finer points of the man-to-man. However, the Blue Lions may see a zone thrown up on their end of the court, if the going gets tough for Bailey's squad.

Washington C.H. has been having trouble with the zone all season, and—although the Tigers are the favorites—Circleville can't afford to take chances with the explosive Blue Lion five.

MIAMI TRACE AT GREENFIELD

The Panthers may have found their starting lineup with the insertion of Bill Hanners at Miami Traces problem spot, the pivot.

The 6-3 sophomore blended in well with the other starters, Allan Conner, Dan Gifford, Rod Garringer and Art Schlichter, in Tuesday's romp at Unioto.

A tougher test will come tonight when the Panthers meet McClain at Greenfield's spacious new fieldhouse.

The Tiger's dropped from a second place tie with the Panthers, Washington C.H. and Wilmington after a Tuesday loss to the Hurricane, but they still sport an impressive 6-3 overall mark.

McClain doesn't put many points on the board, but neither does the opposition as Coach Sam Snyder emphasizes defense to his inexperienced squad.

The probable target for Snyder's defense this week will be Conner, but Garringer and Gifford can also find the hoop.

Snyder usually goes with all-league center Steve Harvey; Chris Nelson and Tim Dreher, two 6-1 forwards; and guards Eric Dunson and Jim Jones.

If the Tigers can stop Miami Trace's fastbreak, they will definitely have a chance to send the Panthers home with a defeat.

MADISON PLAINS AT WILMINGTON

Wilmington will have the services of Tony Berlin and Steve Wilson to put up against the Golden Eagles Friday night.

News that the two Hurricane starters were suspended for two games proved to be false. Coach Larry Bartram said the two juniors were suspended from the high school for three days after being involved in an incident that was not related to sports.

The three day suspension came on the eve of the Hurricane game with Unioto, and both players had to sit out only that contest.

With Berlin and Williams back in the lineup the Hurricane are better than an even pick over the Golden Eagles, who are tough, but lack the experience.

UNIOTO AT HILLSBORO

Hillsboro is a much better team that its 1-5 league record would indicate, and Unioto is about as good as its 0-5 record would indicate.

Hillsboro's two big guns Tim Fuller and Rick Seeling should have a field day against the Tanks unless coach Dave Warne puts in the stall.

It wouldn't be a bad idea either. In fact, it would be the Tanks only hope.

SCOL standings

Cage version of keystone kops

Unranked Ducks give UCLA scare

By KEN RAPPOPORT

AP Sports Writer
Meet college basketball's version of the Keystone Kops — the Oregon Ducks.

"You have to see it to believe it," says UCLA Coach Gene Bartow, who saw it and almost didn't believe it.

The Ducks, who drive everyone crazy with their insane, kamikazi style of play, had the nation's third-ranked team running around in circles for a while Thursday night.

But the Bruins endured 62-61, despite watching the zany Ducks dive for loose balls and leap over press tables in their usual flamboyant manner.

"We made some errors," said Ron Lee, Oregon's high scorer with 17 points. "But we proved tonight that we can beat anybody when we want to go out and play."

A crowd almost as wild as the team cheered on Oregon as the unranked Ducks gave the Bruins fits until the last second. In fact, Oregon had the ball with 17 seconds to go but squandered several opportunities to score the winning basket.

"It was a good win," said Bartow after the Great Escape. "You're supposed to get one like this once in a while on the road."

Four other ranked teams were in action Thursday night as No. 5 Nevada-Las Vegas nipped Seattle 90-89; No. 17 Minnesota stopped Illinois 77-68; Oregon State defeated 18th-ranked Southern Cal 80-70 and 19th-rated

Michigan coasted past Wisconsin 106-81.

Ralph Drollinger and Andre McCarter sparked UCLA in the second half as the Bruins held off the wild Ducks. All the excitement boiled down to the last three minutes.

UCLA had a 57-47 lead with six minutes on the clock but later Oregon's Stu Jackson, Mark Barwig and Greg Ballard closed the gap to 59-53 with 2:45 left. A free throw by Drollinger made it 60-53.

Lee then scored a field goal with 2:30 left to make it 60-55 UCLA and Drollinger responded with another free throw. After UCLA failed to put the ball in play in five seconds, Oregon's Mike Drummond hit two shots from the top of the key, closing the Ducks within 61-59.

With 35 seconds to play, McCarter sank a free throw, then Lee hit a layin with 25 seconds left, bringing Oregon within 62-61. Freshman Dan Mack intercepted UCLA's inbound pass and called time out with 17 seconds left.

Lee dribbled to the baseline and passed to Ballard, who missed an eight-foot bank shot. Drollinger rebounded and was fouled with four seconds left. He missed the shot, and Drummond heaved a desperation shot from half-court at the buzzer, but it bounced off the backboard.

Robert Smith made a key steal and sank four free throws in the final minute as Nevada-Las Vegas beat Seattle.

Ray Williams and Flip Saunders ignited a second-half rally that carried Minnesota past Illinois. Williams finished with 26 points and 12 rebounds to help the Gophers snap a two-game losing streak.

Rocky Smith, a junior college transfer, collected 29 points as Oregon State stunned Southern Cal. It was only the second loss in 13 games for the Trojans while the Beavers improved their record to 8-4.

OSU faces dilemma; Furlow

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State's Fred Taylor faces a coaching dilemma against rapid-scoring Terry Furlow in the Big Ten Conference's regionally-televised game Saturday.

"We've got two defensive choices," said Taylor, his Buckeyes searching for their first conference victory in three tries. The host Spartans are 1-1 in the Big Ten.

"We can try to shut Furlow down and force their other people to score. Or we can make sure the others don't score much and concede him his points," Taylor said.

The 6-foot-4 Michigan State star's 50 points against Iowa Monday night was only the sixth time in conference history a player had reached that plateau. It jumped the 1975 Big Ten scoring king's average to 27.4.

"He drives well, but he has a heckuva outside shooting stroke, too," Taylor marveled over Furlow.

Overall, the Ohio State coach is concerned about the speed of the Spartans, 5-6 to the Buckeyes' 4-6 all-games record.

"Their basic concept is to force people into an uptempo game with them," said Taylor. "There's no way we can get in a shootout with them."

Ohio State will start its same group of center Craig Taylor, forwards Mike Daugherty and Fred Poole and guards Jud Wood and Larry Bolden, the team's scoring leader at 20.5 points. Taylor is averaging 16.2 points.

In other major Ohio college action Saturday, 15th-ranked Cincinnati shoots for its 11th victory in 13 games against invading Eastern Kentucky, Xavier (6-4) entertains St. Joseph (Pa.) and Old Dominion at Dayton (6-5).

In the Mid-American Conference, Miami, Ohio University and Kent State are involved in the early scramble for the lead.

Miami, sharing first place with Western Michigan at 2-0, entertains Northern Illinois. Ohio (1-0) awaits Bowling Green (1-1) while Kent (1-0) goes to Ball State.

In all, 28 games are scheduled Saturday for Ohio colleges with six Ohio Conference contests, three in the Hoosier-Buckeye Conference, two each in the Mid-Ohio and President's Conference.

In college basketball action Thursday night, Kent State matched its total victory production last season with a 86-60 triumph over St. Francis of Pennsylvania. The Golden Flashes, 6-4, were led by Tony Jamison with 18 points.

Muskingum topped Ohio Wesleyan 69-63 in the first Ohio Conference Southern Division game of the season for both teams as Larry Hall pumped in 25 points.

Elsewhere, it was Akron 69, Cheyney State 54, and Cleveland State 61, Kenyon 60.

Winner joins Cincy Bengals as Coach

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Bengals have suddenly become a haven for fired National Football League head coaches.

Charley Winner, dismissed late in the season by the New York Jets, Thursday joined Mike McCormack, fired recently at Philadelphia, as the newest member of the Cincinnati Bengals revamped coaching staff.

Winner, who was also head coach of the St. Louis Cardinals for six years, has been hired a defensive backfield coach. He will work under Howard Brinker, who was elevated to the defensive coordinator position when Chuck Weber resigned a week ago.

McCormack was named last week as the offensive line coach, replacing Bill Johnson, who succeeded Paul Brown as head coach.

Winner, 50, had a 44-44-5 record as a head coach. The Jets let him after only nine games, when the team got off to a 2-7 start.

He met in New York City Thursday night to discuss the upcoming draft.

He called Brinker "one of the finest men in football."

Winner said he had "several places I could have gone but Cincinnati soon appeared to be the best."

Winner served as an assistant with the Baltimore Colts for 12 seasons and joined George Allen's staff at Washington in 1971.

He called the Bengals defensive backfield "one of the best groups around, with no age problems and fine athletes."

Church League

St. Colmans slipped by McNair Presbyterian Thursday night in one of two Community Education sponsored Church League games.

Dave Bihl tossed in 24 points to pace St. Colmans which moved into a tie with Good Shepherd Lutheran and Gregg Street Church of Christ for the league lead.

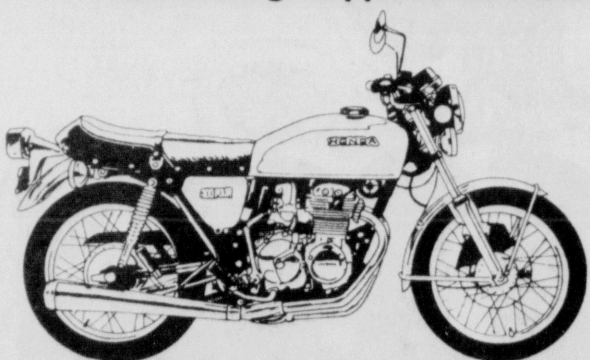

Gregg Street blasted First Baptist, 67-37, in the night's other contest as Wes Williams and Larry Mowery combined for 35 points.

McKinley Kirk honored at USTA awards banquet

COLUMBUS — In addition to the naming of Rambling Willie as the "Ohio Harness Horse of the Year" at Wednesday night's USTA District 1 awards banquet, Washington C. H.'s McKinley Kirk was honored for his contributions to harness racing.

Kirk, 79, 336 Rawlings St., will step down as the Trotting Association's District 1 director, a post he has held for nearly 25 years.

The red and white Kirk racing colors are already enshrined in the Harness Racing Hall of Fame in Goshen, N.Y., which is an appropriate tribute to his distinguished and successful racing career.

The successful farmer who turned to harness racing as a hobby drove in his first race in 1944 starting a career which has carded nearly 400 wins and $400,000 in purse money. Most of his wins came behind horses which he bred, broke, and trained at his farm in Fayette County.

Last Wednesday night's USTA tribute was only one of many honors bestowed on Kirk in recent years. He has been honored by the Fayette County Horsemen's Association and a section of the Ohio Trotting Horse Museum has been devoted to his trophies and horses.

Some of Kirk's more outstanding accomplishments have been in developing two-minute horses and stakes winners. Seven of his horses broke the elusive two-minute barrier and he drove the mile in less than 2:00 on 12 occasions making him one of the nation's top amateur drivers.

He has won prestigious stakes races such as the Abbedale, the American Pacing Classic, the Great Midwest Stakes, the Horseman Futurity and the Ohio State Fair classics.

Of his two-minute horses, he lists Great Pleasure as being his favorite.

Kirk has bred, raised, trained and raced four World Champions and four "Ohio Harness Horse of the Year" winners.

Cadillac's Ace wins feature at Latonia

FLORENCE, Ky. (AP) — Cadillac's Ace moved out of fourth at the top of the stretch to win the featured thoroughbred race at Latonia by a length Thursday night.

The winner went the mile in 1:40 4-5 to return $8.80, $4.00 $4.00. Bosuns Stitch, second, paid $3.00 and $3.00. Missy Rae was the show horse at $4.80. Leekaboo and Casanova Jester, 4-9, paid $16.00 in the daily double.

A crowd of 1,659 wagered $183,405.

Bob Howsam attacks reserve clause ruling

CINCINNATI (AP) — Bob Howsam, president and general manager of the World Champion Cincinnati Reds, says "common sense" is needed in sports at the moment or players "will price themselves right out of the business."

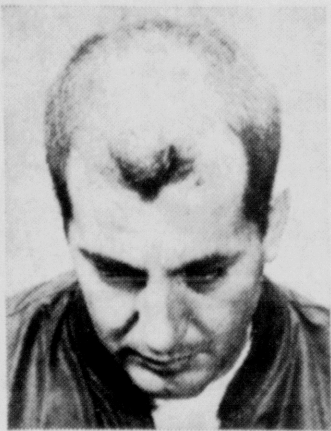

Attacking a recent decision by chief negotiator Peter Seitz, he told a Cincinnati sports banquet Thursday night that loss of the reserve clause would endanger the structure of baseball.

THE MANY ADVANTAGES OF A FINE OLDER HOME!

The Bicentennial year is upon us and home buying people have become aware of our heritage and there has been a trend to buying older homes. There are advantages too, especially when it's the home that we are offering today, that is located in one of the prime locations in Washington, has all the features of a new home with updated wiring, wall to wall carpeting, new tasteful decorating inside and out but still remaining is the traditional oak woodwork, trim and doors that gives that warm and authentic appearance. But best of all is the spaciousness this home offers with its four bedrooms, living room, formal dining room, family room, kitchen and 1 1/2 baths. The little extras such as the large walk-in closets, the front and rear stairway,
the fireplace, entrance foyer, the dry basement makes this house a home that you and your family will enjoy for years to come and yet its priced at only $42,500.00

Dr. Mary At 83 Still Practicing

By BRENDAN RILEY
Associated Press Writer
SMITH, Nev. (AP) — When Dr. Mary Fulstone began making house calls in a rattling pickup truck 55 years ago, the thorny issues physicians now face were nonexistent, but the new hassles aren't slowing her down.

"I suppose I'll practice until I die," said the 83-year-old woman, who has practiced medicine longer than any other Nevada doctor — from the kitchen of her rambling ranch house in rural Smith Valley.

"Doctor Mary" is bothered by spiraling malpractice insurance rates, the ways government-funded health programs operate, the debate over a patient's right to die, and the new doctor's tendency to specialize instead of going into general practice.

But the hassles are overshadowed by the rewards of being a country doctor.

"I've been in on everything in these peoples' lives — the good things and the bad too. It's like being part of each family."

"I guess I should retire sometime, but I don't know when," she said in an interview at her home-office. "We could use another doctor out here, and maybe when that happens, I'll start to edge myself out."

When she started her practice here in 1920, Doctor Mary caught some residents off guard. They wanted a doctor because the only other physician was in Yerington, about 20 miles away, but they weren't expecting a woman.

The ranchers and miners, however, "were glad to have a doctor here for the first time. Now these people have become like a family to me," she said.

Since then, she has seen countless patients, delivered nearly 4,000 babies, and made herself so well known that even telephone operators skip her last name when giving out her phone number.

Along with the doctoring, she raised five children of her own, took an active role in upgrading medical facilities in the area and got herself elected to the state Board of Education. She has been on that panel for 19 years.

She still keeps a full schedule, even though she has had some health problems of her own recently, resulting in operations on her back and on an eye.

Doctor Mary sees patients daily in her home, then sees more patients at the hospital and at her second office in Yerington. On a busy day, she'll handle 30 to 40 persons.

She has seen many changes in her field.

But one new trend — letting fathers into delivery rooms when their children are being born — is nothing new to her.

"It's all the fashion now," she said. "But I used to deliver babies at homes, and the fathers always helped me."

Doctor Mary doesn't see herself as a women's rights advocate even though she has accomplished many of the goals for which women are now pressing.

"I just never have associated myself with the women's lib movement," she said. "My way of thinking is that you get your rights, you needs met, through your own efforts and work."

"If you're busy, you're not restricted because of your sex in the practice of medicine," she added.

"Being a country doctor, I don't always go by the appointment book. People just come here to see me. They know where I'll be."

A WHALE LANDED ON AUTO
PORT ELIZABETH, South Africa (AP) — Francis Lombard of Port Elizabeth has a fishy tale for his insurance agents.

He claims a whale fell on his car, denting the roof and damaging the windshield.

The whale is a fiber-glass model mammal which stands near the entrance to a seaside resort hotel at Plettenberg Bay.

A strong gale recently lifted the whale from the ground and it came crashing down on Lombard's brand new car parked nearby.

FARMERS DON'T DIG METRIC

RACINE, Wis. (AP) — The metric system apparently rates low with farmers, if one is to judge from a recent poll conducted by Wisconsin Agriculturalist, a farm magazine.

Farmers were asked, "Since most countries of the world now use the metric system, it has been suggested that we adopt it." Only 17 per cent said we should adopt it. Sixty-three per cent were against it and 20 per cent were undecided.

The greatest meat eaters in the world (figures include animal organs and poultry) are the people of Uruguay, with an average consumption of 10.93 ounces per person per day in 1964-66. The lowest consumption of meat in the world is 0.16 ounces per person per day in Sri Lanka (formerly Ceylon) in 1968.

Ohio awarded federal funds

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio has been awarded $1,000,315 in federal funds by the U.S. Department of Transportation as an incentive to continue its safe driving program, U.S. Sen. Robert Taft Jr. announced.

Taft said the state's reduced traffic fatality record prompted the award. He added that the grant was the largest given the 17 states qualified to participate in the federal highway safety plan.

In Common Pleas Court

Drug sale defendants re-sentenced

Three persons have been resented and another sentenced for the first time in Fayette County Common Pleas Court for drug-related violations. Another was sentenced for breaking and entering.

Mr. and Mrs. Danny Hoagland, 401 Peddicord Ave., were resented on drug charges. Each had been serving time at a state penal institution prior to resending.

Mrs. Hoagland, 31, had been found guilty by a Fayette County petit jury of two counts of possession of marijuana, two counts of possession for sale, and two counts of sale of the hallucinogen. She had been sentenced to a prison term of 20 to 40 years. However, under the new Ohio drug law, the penalty was reduced to a jail term of one to five years.

Although Mrs. Hoagland could have applied for early probation in as little as 30 days under the former sentence, the new law states that the minimum term, one year, must actually be served. The one-to-five sentence was for sale. Her sentences for each count of possession and possession for sale were established at 30 days each, and these will run concurrently with the more severe term.

In addition, Mrs. Hoagland had been sentenced to a prison term of six months to five years in January of 1975 for receiving stolen property which had been suspended. Since the drug violations constituted a violation of the terms of probation, the original sentence was reimposed. It, too, will run concurrently with the most severe drug sentence, and Mrs. Hoagland was returned to the Women's Reformatory at Marysville.

Danny Hoagland, 35, had pleaded guilty to a reduced charge of possession of marijuana for sale after he was arrested for sale of the drug. He had been sentenced to a prison term of 10 to 20 years, but this was reduced to 30 days and a $250 fine under the new code. He had possessed more than 100 grams of marijuana for sale.

Billy Vinion, 722 Peabody Ave., had originally been sentenced to a term of 10 to 20 years after he also pleaded guilty to possession for sale. Since the amount he had had was less than 100 grams, he was fined $100.

Appearing in court for the first time after pleading guilty to possession of the hallucinogen phenylcyclidine for sale, John Perine, 18, of 716 Broadway, was sentenced to 60 days in jail and fined $500. Judge Evelyn W. Coffman suspended the jail term, however.

Robert W. Hiser, 18, of Milledgeville, who had been placed on probation in the spring of 1974 for the theft of some 500 pounds of copper wire from the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Co., pleaded guilty Dec. 16 to breaking and entering Jasper Elementary School in Milledgeville. He has been sentenced to a term of one to five years in the Chillicothe Correctional Institute for the latter offense and a prison term of six months to five years was reimposed on the larceny charge. Both sentences will be concurrent.

Data on farm population shows youngs, blacks leave

WASHINGTON (AP) — Numbers of young people and blacks among the nation's farm population declined sharply from 1970 to 1974, although the general farm population went down more slowly than before, the government reported today.

There are signs, however, that the general decline of farm dwellers accelerated again in 1974 and 1975.

A report issued by the Census Bureau and the Agriculture Department showed the farm population dropped by an average of 1.2 per cent each year from 1970 to 1974.

There were 9.7 million farm workers in 1970 compared with 9.3 million in April 1974. Vera Banks, a statistician with the Agriculture Department, said, however, that preliminary figures show a drop to 8.9 million farm workers in 1975, a decline of 8 per cent.

But she said in an interview that one year's figures are not enough to indicate a sure trend.

The 1970-74 report showed that blacks and other racial minorities living on the farm declined in number from 938,000 to 655,000 over the period, an annual drop of 9 per cent. Mrs. Banks said the reason is not clear, but she cited automation in cotton harvesting and the recession, which hits poor black farmers first.

Members of farm families below age 14 declined by 20 per cent from 1970 to 1974, the report said, while the number above 14 remained about the same.

Mrs. Banks said increasing numbers of older farm workers are taking advantage of retirement benefits for which they were never eligible before.

The report said for every 107 males on farms there were 100 women, compared with the ratio in the general population of 93 men for each 100 women.

Mrs. Banks said the figures include some migration from the farms to urban areas.

Stolen auto report probed

A 1963 model Pontiac is being sought by Washington C.H. police officers. The auto, owned by Paul Souther, was stolen from his 421 W. Court St. residence sometime between 1:30 a.m. and 8:15 a.m. Thursday. Police reported Souther had purchased the car from a Jerry Brady for $180, but never received the title transfer from Brady.

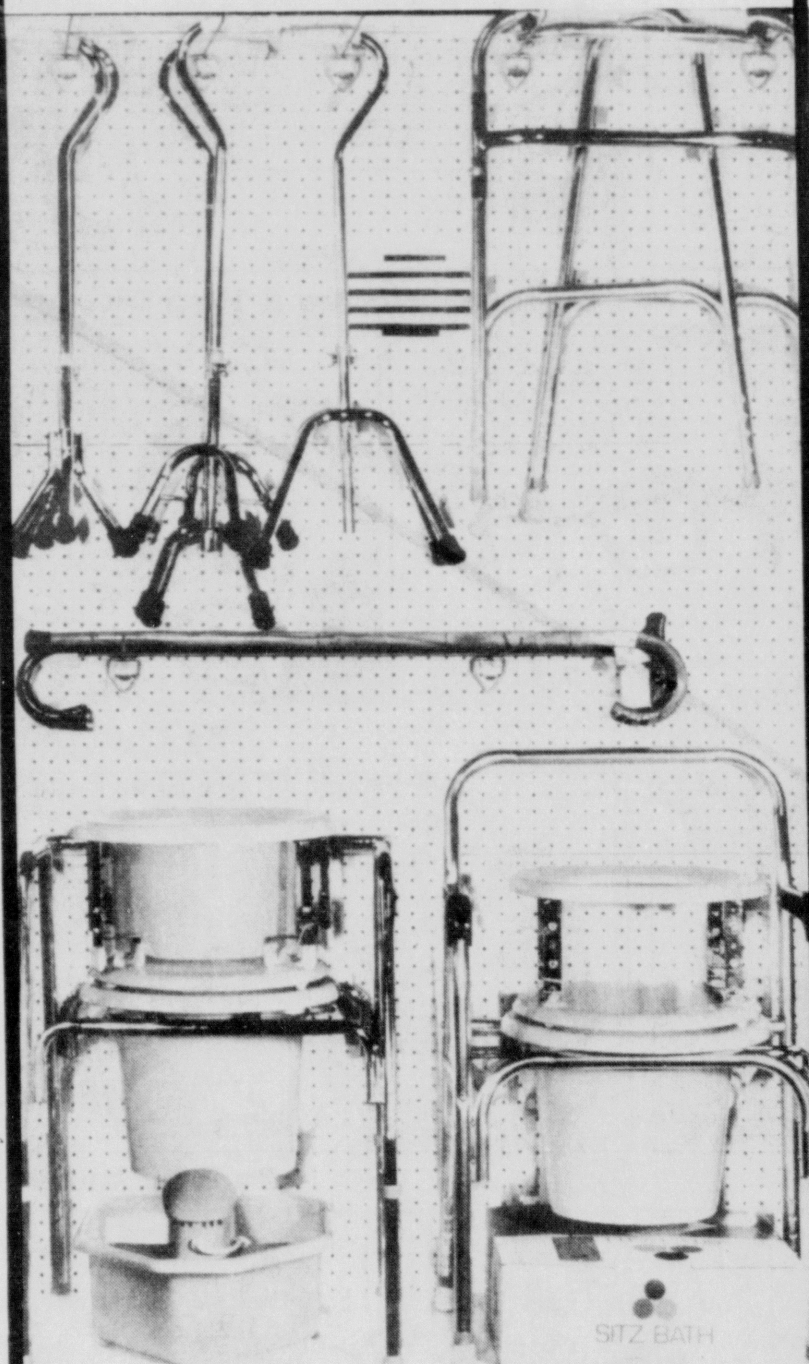

The Fayette County Sheriff's Department reported a citizens band radio theft. The radio was stolen from a car belonging to John W. Workman, 827 Lakeview Ave., sometime between 8:30 p.m. Wednesday and 5:30 p.m. Thursday.

Deputies stated the auto had skidded on ice into a ditch in the vicinity of U.S. 35, southeast of Washington C.H. The radio valued at $160 was stolen while Workman was seeking assistance in getting his car pulled from the ditch.

Wang Hung-Wen to be real power?

Chou En-Lai's death mourned by Chinese

TOKYO (AP) — China today began a week of mourning for Premier Chou En-lai amid expectations that Teng Hsiao-ping, his 71-year-old first deputy, will succeed him as premier. But Chou's more powerful second spot in the Communist party hierarchy may go to 39-year-old Wang Hung-wen, a vice chairman of the party and the boy wonder of Chinese politics.

Chou, China's premier since the Communist victory in 1949 and one of the outstanding statesmen of the century, died Thursday at the age of 78. The announcement of the death was delayed for 16 hours. He had been in the hospital since he had a heart attack in May 1974, but cancer was given as the cause of death.

The Chinese Embassy in Tokyo said the funeral would be held in Peking Jan. 15. Hsinhua, the official Chinese news agency, announced a 107-member funeral committee headed by Mao Tse-tung, the 82-year-old chairman of the Chinese Communist party and for 40 years Chou's mentor.

Japanese correspondents in Peking reported that Communist party leaders met Thursday night at the Great Hall of the People. There was speculation that the central committee of the party was deciding on Chou's successor.

Observers believed the choice was sure to be Teng, a protégé of Chou who was purged in 1967 during the Great Cultural Revolution, returned to power in 1973 and has been running the government since the premier became ill.

Teng is considered a strong advocate of relations between China and the United States, and U.S. officials said because of this Chou's death was not expected to have an adverse effect on contacts between Washington and Peking. Teng became known to American television audiences when he was President Ford's host last month.

However, the funeral committee list, which presumably listed the members in the order of their party standing, placed Wang second after Mao and Teng fourth, following Defense Minister Yeh Chien-ying, 79. This could mean that Wang would inherit Chou's party mantle, putting him in line to succeed Mao as party chairman.

Wang was chosen for high office as a concession to the nation's youth, but his star seemed to waver in recent months. Following Chou's illness, he ceased to accompany foreign visitors to audiences with Mao and in recent months he has made his headquarters in Shanghai. He reappeared in Peking Dec. 17 to preside at the funeral of another party vice chairman, Kang Sheng.

Teng and Chou were students in France together in the early 1920s and organized a branch of the Chinese Communist party there. In the formative years of the party in China, he was one of Mao's and Chou's most valued administrative and political aides.

He was party general secretary and a member of the Politburo as well as a vice premier when Defense Minister Lin Biao engineered his disgrace during the Cultural Revolution. Lin was killed in 1971 in a plane crash in Mongolia, reportedly after an unsuccessful plot to assassinate Mao, and Teng reappeared two years later at a banquet in Peking for Prince Norodom Sihanouk of Cambodia.

The news of Chou's death was announced to the Chinese people by a radio broadcast early today. The people of Peking were reported stunned and subdued even though they knew for months he was gravely ill.

Messages of condolence came from all over the world. Among the senders were former President Nixon, who worked with Chou to bring an end to two decades of Chinese-American hostility, and President Ford.

Ford said Chou "left his imprint not only on the history of modern China but also on the world scene." Nixon said "only a handful of men in the 20th century will match Premier Chou's impact on world history."

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger, whose negotiations with Chou cleared the way for Nixon's historic 1972 visit to China, said he was "one of the remarkable statesmen of modern times."

Chou's parents were members of the wealthy Mandarin class, but he was educated at the Nankai School in Tientsin, near Peking, which had a

THE BIDDY basketball league games slated for Saturday morning at Miami Trace have been cancelled, according to Miami Trace athletic director Richard Hill. . .

TWO MORE winners have been named in the Washington C. H. Blue Lion basketball boosters club's "200 Club" drawing . . .

The winners of the latest drawing were Dr. Hugh W. Payton, 416 Jupiter St., and John W. Shaffer, of Washington C. H. . . . Four winners have been selected and there will be eight more during the basketball season . . .

Emma Taylor, a widow, called her good fortune "just another miracle." She said she plans to donate a sum to Oral Roberts' Christian campaign.

Third prize of $50,000 went to Patricia Nicely, a 34-year-old secretary from Columbus.

The seven winners of $10,000 were: John Noble, Dayton; Harley Riley, Dayton; William Stephens, Gahanna; Elmer Hoff, Cincinnati; Michael Birmingham, North Canton; Ed Hockstetter and Elizabeth Sheridan, both of Ironton.

The remaining contestants, four of them from Indiana, will receive $1,000 in cash.

TEMPERATURES REMAINED below zero throughout Friday morning, and there was plenty of snow to be carted away so that roads could be at least partially cleared of menacing ice formations. Streets were not the only areas well-iced, as many store front windows received a good frosting on the inside as well as the outside. With such a hostile environment, it was difficult to decide whether there were more dummies walking around or dressed as mannequins. (Geoff Mavis photos)

County pupils receive third day of vacation

City students return to classes

It was business as usual Friday for students of Washington C.H. School District, but county students enjoyed a third day of their snow vacation.

City school officials reported that all six city buildings opened classes on schedule and for the most part, buses were running normally.

All athletic events in the two Fayette County high schools were cancelled, however, including a Washington Senior High School basketball game with Circleville.

Laurel Oaks Career Development

Campus in Wilmington did not hold classes.

City street department superintendent Bill Duncan said the best medicine for snowy roads appeared at mid-morning Friday—sunshine. He said efforts to combat the ice on Washington C.H. streets Thursday were thwarted by the rapid decline in temperature which refroze areas which had been treated with salt.

Temperatures dropped sharply Thursday afternoon and climbed steadily downward during the night.

The low temperature recorded by official Washington C.H. weather observer Coyt A. Stookey was three degrees, but temperatures dipped to three degrees below zero overnight.

Duncan explained the reason that state highways were in so much better condition Thursday night and Friday morning. He said the state is using calcium mixed with salt when treating highways in severe weather. The calcium will melt snow at much lower temperatures than salt. He added that the city has used 20 to 25 tons of salt since the snow first began falling Thursday morning.

State highways, treated all day Thursday and again Friday with the calcium-salt mixture, were reportedly in good condition. The interstate highways were also in good condition.

County roads improved considerably Thursday, but many stretches of roadway in lesser traveled areas were still very hazardous.

Some die hard optimist may point out that the record low for this date has been reported at seven degrees below zero. However, a reminder that last year's temperatures were in the high 40's might help convince them to join the majority of Fayette County residents who have been understandably unhappy with Mother Nature.

Baltimore man winner

CLEVELAND (AP) — Floyd McDaniel, this week's Ohio Lottery winner, thought about it a little and then said the only plans he has right now is "to spend the money."

McDaniel, 58, of Baltimore, Ohio, won the top prize in the lottery's Buckeye 1,000 drawing Thursday night. He will receive $1,000 a month for life and is guaranteed $400,000.

He is a traffic analyst at the Ohio Department of Transportation in Columbus. McDaniel has three children and three grandchildren.

Ohio Lottery spokesmen said Raymond G. Brown of Norwalk won $10,000; William Chapman of Clinton won $7,500; Marguerite Eley of New Madison won $5,000; Valerie V. Maxwell of Youngstown won $4,000; Beryl Nalley of Columbus won $3,000; Ora R. Lawson of Convington, Ky., won $2,000 and Nellie Sasso of Cleveland won $1,000.

The winning six-digit number in the Buckeye 1,000 was 125127; the five-digit number was 30368; the four-digit number was 0089 and the three-digit number was 472.

The Super Santa six-digit number was 957992; the five-digit number was 33126 and the four-digit number was 3931. The Super Santa snowflake numbers were 71, 46, 45 and 28.

He will receive $50,000-a-year for the next 20 years.

A Bethel woman who turns 68 today was the winner of the $100,000 prize.

Upper Sandusky man millionaire

CINCINNATI (AP) — Instant millionaire Dale Weber of Upper Sandusky received some financial advice moments after he won the Ohio Lottery's top prize Thursday night.

"A guy from the auditor's office told me to get a good tax consultant," laughed the 51-year-old truck driver who became the seventh lottery millionaire.

Tax bite or not, Weber plans to "trade our little camper in for a big motor coach, see some country we haven't seen and buy a home in Florida."

The grandfather of four said he bought the winning lottery tickets at his wife's insistence. "They were the first I'd bought in six or seven weeks," said Weber, who was among 100 previous $20 winners with a shot at the grand prize.

Weber said he knew he had a chance at the million dollars when he saw the winning envelope drawn. "I had folded it over. When they drew the first two — for $50,000 and $100,000 — I knew I was still in it. I'm not superstitious, but I had my fingers crossed so hard they were turning white."

He will receive $50,000-a-year for the next 20 years.

A Bethel woman who turns 68 today was the winner of the $100,000 prize.

Emma Taylor, a widow, called her good fortune "just another miracle." She said she plans to donate a sum to Oral Roberts' Christian campaign.

Third prize of $50,000 went to Patricia Nicely, a 34-year-old secretary from Columbus.

The seven winners of $10,000 were: John Noble, Dayton; Harley Riley, Dayton; William Stephens, Gahanna; Elmer Hoff, Cincinnati; Michael Birmingham, North Canton; Ed Hockstetter and Elizabeth Sheridan, both of Ironton.

The remaining contestants, four of them from Indiana, will receive $1,000 in cash.

By The Associated Press
Temperatures plummeted to a statewide low of minus six at Mansfield, as frigid arctic air swept into Ohio under clear skies last night.

The coldest weather of the season came while Ohioans still were slipping and sliding on snow accumulations of from two to six inches from the state's first major snow storm.

Mansfield's low was followed by a minus five at Dayton, while a minus four at Columbus set a new record for this date.

At 6 a.m. today, the warmest was about two degrees above at Ashtabula, and also Marietta to Chesapeake on the Ohio River, the National Weather Service reported.

For today, highs will be in the teens, along with mostly sunny skies in southern Ohio, and scattered snow flurries in Northern Ohio.

Locally heavy snow squalls are possible again today off Lake Erie towards Ashtabula.

Lows for tonight are forecast five to 10 above, under mostly fair skies, with highs on Saturday in the 20s along with increasing cloudiness.

By Saturday, the high pressure, which is located over Arkansas today, will be moving eastward off the Atlantic Coast.

Garrettsville in Portage County had a power failure to compound its cold weather woes. Power company officials said two cables snapped at 6 p.m. Thursday, leaving the village's 1,700 residents without electricity for three hours.

The Highway Patrol reported most major roads around the state were clear by late Thursday, but many secondary roads remained snow and ice-covered and hazardous.

At least one death was attributed to the weather. In Wheelersburg, at the southern tip of Ohio, Grover G. Conley, 61, died of an apparent heart attack while shoveling snow at his home.

A blast of wind and an icy runway were blamed by the Highway Patrol for an aircraft accident at Don Scott Field in Columbus Wednesday evening. Officials said a twin-engine private plane was hit by a gust of wind as it moved down a runway after landing, skidded off the icy runway and struck a landing light which caused the nose landing gear to retract. Officials said there were no injuries.

Cincinnati police described as being like "musical chairs," an incident in the city's Mount Auburn section Thursday morning. Six motorists stalled on a steep hill and a wrecker that was dispatched to the scene also stalled. A salt truck then was sent but it caught on fire.

Chou En-Lai

reputation for producing rebels. In 1919, he took part in the May 4 Movement, an uprising of students against the treatment the Western Allies gave China after World War I. The movement produced many Communists, and it was there he met his future wife, Teng Yeng-chao.

Chou in the 1920s clashed often with the authorities, led demonstrations, was jailed from time to time and was a leading member of the Awaken Society of anarchists and Communists dedicated to a new order for China.

From the 1930s he identified himself with Mao, and after the Communists took over China in 1949, he was Mao's first lieutenant in founding and running the People's Republic. In contrast to the enigmatic, withdrawn chairman, he was outgoing, witty, adaptable and gregarious. These traits made him a favorite with foreigners and also helped him to survive the savage infighting of Chinese politics which brought down others who appeared to outrank him.

Though Mao directed the broad lines of policy, Chou ran the government. A long career as negotiator for the Communists, beginning with talks in the 1930s with Chinese Nationalist leader Chiang Kai-shek, fitted him for the concurrent post of foreign minister, which he held until 1958.

A moderate, his ability to compromise and his acceptability to both sides saved China from total chaos during the Cultural Revolution, which convulsed the party and administration. It was evidently Chou who decided in 1969 that it was time for China to present a new face to the world, to be part of it and to compete in it, to build the Chinese economy and to make China strong and self-reliant.

He restored contacts with many countries, among them several which had been cold or hostile. The period of détente reached its climax with the reconciliation with the United States.

Budget review may bring subpoenas

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Majority Democrats in the legislature will use the power of subpoena if Republican department heads refuse to cooperate in an upcoming review of Ohio's two-year budget, they said Thursday.

Chairman Harry Meshel of the Senate Finance Committee and Chairman Myrl Shoemaker of the House Finance Committee said they had been advised that the cabinet heads were told by GOP Gov. James A. Rhodes not to cooperate in the hearings by joint sessions of their panels. They begin next Wednesday.

Use of the subpoena power could be a first for the legislature, although it has had the authority for many years. Shoemaker, a veteran of 18 years in the House, said "I don't know that it's ever been done before."

Rhodes was not available for comment, but his administrative assistant, Chan Cochran, said he was not aware that orders had gone out to the cabinet members not to cooperate. He confirmed, however, that the governor "doesn't think reopening the budget is a good idea."

The legislature approved the 1975-1977 spending document early last summer. Rhodes signed it June 29, but at the same time ordered a 2 per cent, across-the-board spending cut by his executive departments which he said was needed to bring it into balance.

Just before Christmas, Rhodes told reporters he may order another 2 per cent reduction next spring unless there is a significant improvement in the state's current money crunch.

"We believe a lot of serious questions have been raised in the last six months that need answering," said Meshel, D-33 Youngstown, and Shoemaker, D-88 Bourneville, in a joint statement. They added, "On the one hand, the governor says repeatedly that the budget act spends too much...on the other, his department heads say it spends too little."

The two chairmen, who also are members of the State Controlling Board, said the hearings probably will last two months. Initially, they will involve the departments of commerce, mental health and mental retardation, natural resources, transportation, and welfare.

Shoemaker said "these are the ones which repeatedly have come with their problems to the controlling board." He said in several instances, department heads have tried to recoup from Ohio's emergency funds the same money cut from their budgets by executive action of the governor.

Shoemaker said while the two committees do not intend to review the entire budget, they may expand their review later to include the money problems surrounding the new 41-story State Office Tower.

The Ohio Building Authority, which built the skyscraper with a loan from the Workmen's Compensation Fund, has been unable to collect about $7 million in delinquent rents from occupying state agencies. The deficit could grow to about $14 million in the second year of the biennium, officials said.

Meshel and Shoemaker said that while they want to see if some funds might be shifted around and new priorities set, they also plan to question department heads about the performance of their agencies. The legislature included statements of legislative intent for each agency in the budget bill, only to have them stricken from the measure by Rhodes with line item vetoes.

"The executive is responsible for implementation of Ohio's laws. The legislature, as the author of those laws, has the right to assure itself that the executive remains accountable for the effective implementation of those laws," the lawmakers' statement said.

It concluded: "We are hopeful that our joint hearings will be conducted with the executive's cooperation. As the governor repeatedly has said, and we agreed, we all work for the same people."

Sen. Robert Byrd eyes Presidency

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia, one of the most powerful members of the Senate, is joining the already crowded field of candidates seeking the 1976 Democratic presidential nomination.

Byrd was to announce today his intentions of entering the May 11 West Virginia primary, thus becoming the 11th Democratic candidate. Aides said he intends to leave his "options open" on other state primaries.

Meanwhile, aides to Maryland Sen. Charles McC. Mathias said they expect him to announce today whether he plans to enter the Republican presidential race.

Mathias had earlier said he might enter the contest if it appeared President Ford was leaning too far to the right in an effort to stave off the conservative challenge of former California Gov. Ronald Reagan.

Reagan was to take his campaign to Florida in his quest for the Republican nomination. President Ford's campaign manager, Howard H. Callaway, attacked Reagan's budget-cutting proposals on Thursday, calling the plan "a $90-billion boondoggle."

Regarded as one of the Senate's master tacticians, Byrd, 57, has been Senate Democratic whip — assistant majority leader — since he wrested the post from Sen. Edward M. Kennedy in 1971.

Byrd has been testing the political waters for a possible presidential bid for some time, casting himself as a potential dark horse who might capture the nomination in the event of a convention deadlock.

Last week, Byrd authorized a campaign finance committee to work in his behalf and set up a campaign headquarters in Washington.

Byrd generally is regarded as a middle-of-the-road Democrat, although he is distrusted by some Senate liberals because of conservative positions he has taken on some issues and a background that included membership in the Ku Klux Klan in the 1940s — membership he now says he deeply regrets.

Byrd had conducted something of a phantom candidacy during the past year, speaking at political functions in 14 states during 1975.

Byrd's seat is also up this year, but aides said he intends to seek both reelection and his party's presidential nomination.

Byrd generally is regarded as a hard worker and a master of the Senate rules of procedure. He has also been one of the most outspoken Senate critics of President Ford and his policies.

Reagan campaigned in North Carolina on Thursday, again defending his plan to cut $90 billion from the budget by transferring major social and welfare programs from the federal government to the states.

Callaway met with reporters, calling Reagan's plan "a $90-billion boondoggle" that could throw elderly Americans out in the cold.

Turning to the results of a new Gallup poll that shows a 7 per cent drop in Ford's popularity, Callaway said support for both Ford and Reagan is soft now.

"Polls go up and down now," he said. "There is not a strong constituency for either one of them that is dug in."

There were these other political developments:

—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., sent a letter to Democratic presidential candidates underlining his noncandidacy. A slate of 17 delegates favoring Humphrey's nomination has been entered in the New Hampshire primary. "The only course left to me is to ask the Democrats of New Hampshire not to vote for this slate," he wrote.

—Ford and 10 Democratic candidates agreed Thursday to conduct their campaigns under a set of standards outlined by the citizen lobby Common Cause. The group said Reagan has not responded to the guidelines, which call for the candidates to "discuss issues openly and honestly with the public and the press."

Common Cause said only independent candidate Eugene McCarthy rejected the guidelines. In a letter signed by McCarthy campaign manager Ronald Cocomo, it was suggested that Common Cause "take your standards and stuff them in your ear."

—Sen. Henry Bellmon, R-Okla., said he doubts Ford will wind up as the GOP nominee. He said he favors former Texas Gov. John B. Connally but would prefer Reagan to Ford as the Republican candidate.

—The Federal Election Commission approved federal campaign aid payments for three Democratic candidates. The subsidies: $408,765 for Rep. Morris K. Udall, R-Ariz.; $230,673 for former Georgia Gov. Jimmy Carter; and $14,420 for Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind.

—Former Oklahoma Sen. Fred Harris said on National Public Radio Thursday that "what we need is a fair distribution of wealth and power as an express stated goal of the government." He also said, "You shouldn't place a (proportionately) heavier tax on the person making automobiles than on the person dealing in automotive stocks."

Stocks post slight gain

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market, encouraged by signs of slackened inflationary pressures, kept moving ahead today. But profit taking kept the gains at modest levels.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks had a 1.97 gain at 909.95 to go with the 55.57-point upsurge of the first five trading days of the new year. Advancing issues outpaced declines by about a 3-2 margin on the New York Stock Exchange.

As the market opened, the government reported that its wholesale price index posted a .4 per cent decline for December, after adjustment for seasonal factors. The index came through 1975 with a rise of 4.2 per cent, a much better showing than the 20.9 per cent jump recorded in the preceding year.

United Telecommunications was the most active issue on the Big Board, up 1/4 at 15 1/2. A 125,000-share block traded at that price.

Hawthorden employees dismissed

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — The superintendent of Hawthorden State Hospital has fired 12 employees, including the institution's security chief, on charges that the workers abused patients.

Supt. Barry Fireman said Thursday among those dismissed were Winston Reid of Cleveland, the security chief, and hospital labor union chief David Johnson.

The 12 were among 14 persons recently indicted by a Summit County grand jury that investigated charges of patient abuse, and Fireman said he dismissed those named on the abuse charges but not those indicted for other matters.

He said that he based his decision on information obtained by the Ohio Highway Patrol probe that preceded the grand jury's investigation. Fireman added that in the next several weeks he may fire other employees who weren't indicted.

Reid, 61, was indicted on a charge of sexual abuse of patients. Johnson, president of the hospital's chapter of American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, was charged with physical abuse of patients.

Fireman also dismissed George Donathin, 35, of Akron, who turned himself in to Akron authorities earlier Thursday to face a charge of sexual battery, and William Gaynor, 64, of Twinsburg, who faces the same charge.

OAU meet being held

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — African foreign ministers were meeting informally today "to narrow areas of differences" in preparation for the Organization of African Unity's weekend summit meeting on Angola, a spokesman reported.

The foreign ministers gathered Thursday for a brief public session at which four of them condemned South African military intervention in the civil war in the former Portuguese territory. But they said nothing about Soviet or Cuban intervention.

The OAU spokesman said a private session that followed lasted only an hour because little preparation for the meeting of government heads Saturday was required. He explained that any decisions would have to be made by the government heads.

Stebbins to fight dismissal

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The ousted chairman of the Ohio Industrial Commission has indicated he will fight his removal from office by Gov. James A. Rhodes.
Gregory J. Stebbins, who was dismissed Wednesday by the governor, said, "I intend to waive none of my rights with respect to the holding of the office which I occupy." He has seven days to file a formal appeal.
In announcing his decision, Rhodes accused Stebbins of "inefficiency in office, neglect of duty, misfeasance, malfeasance and nonfeasance." The three-member commission oversees the state's workmen's compensation benefit program.

"I have reviewed the order," Stebbins said, "and while some of the contents of it are vague and non-specific, I am confident that they represent no wrongdoing whatsoever on my part."

"I have always given my best efforts to the people of the State of Ohio as a member of the Industrial Commission, and I am quite sure that there is no cause for my removal," he said.
Rhodes said his office had conducted an investigation of Stebbins based on questions raised in newspaper reports and at legislative hearings and "statements from private citizens."
The accusations range from a questionable personal real estate transaction to alleged approval of disability claims on behalf of dead persons.
Stebbins, a Democrat and former Ohio AFL-CIO official, was appointed to the industrial commission in 1972 by former Gov. John J. Gilligan. His term was to have expired in August 1977.

TV Viewing

NEW YORK (AP) — On Sunday, ABC is airing the first episode of "Eleanor and Franklin," a dramatization of the life of Eleanor Roosevelt and her 40-year marriage to the man who led America through World War II, Franklin D. Roosevelt.
The show runs two hours, as does Monday's finale. We took an advance look at the first installment, found it mighty boring and withdrew to pray that the second show exhibits signs of life.
The only pluses in Sunday's saga are fine costuming, excellent photography and a brilliant acting job by Jane Alexander, cast as Eleanor Roosevelt from age 18 to 60.
I think the basic problem is that the show is based on Joseph P. Lash's book, "Eleanor and Franklin," which in paperback form runs 904 pages in narrative alone.
I don't care if it won a Pulitzer Prize, the book is so laden with minutiae that reading it is an experience akin to running the Boston Marathon in concrete galoshes.
James Costigan's adaptation of it for TV gives the same experience, at least in Sunday's show, which covers Eleanor's childhood, her first meeting with Franklin and their wedding in 1905.
The proceedings begin in April 1945 in Washington, D.C., when she gets word of her husband's death at the presidential retreat in Warm Springs, Ga.
Upon arriving there, she learns that one of the persons with whom he died was an old flame, Lucy Rutherford, with whom he had a romance in the late 1900s when the lady was Eleanor's social secretary.
Then, with occasional flashbacks to a scene of Eleanor sitting alone in a room near the bed in which her dead husband lies, the show launches into her painful early years as the daughter of the troubled Elliot Roosevelts. It is a very slow launch.

MacKenzie Phillips portrays the young Eleanor, and is awfully good at appearing morose. Ted Eccles plays young Franklin briefly and rather well, despite such lines as, "It's beastly hot in here. What do you say we go out on the porch?"
This comes when he first takes an interest in her at a dance held by another member of the wealthy and large Roosevelt clan.
The show improves only when Miss Alexander arrives to portray Eleanor in her late teens at yet another dance where she again sees and comes to love FDR, played from then on by Edward Herrman.
Herrman effectively captures Roosevelt's jaunty air, but the dialogue assigned him is so upper-crust camp and vacuous I'm surprised he didn't bound into a room and say, "Tennis, anyone?"
Wife can't sue for damages
HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — A wife cannot sue for damages for injuries sustained by her husband prior to their marriage, a Butler County Common Pleas Court judge has ruled.
Judge Fred B. Cramer said there is no record of such a case on the books in Ohio. He eliminated the $15,000 loss-of-services claim made Celeste Pharis, Seven Mile, Ohio, in a suit filed with her husband, James.
The husband's claim for $35,000 against two fellow construction workers was continued. He charged Robert Callahan and Roy Chambers, Okeana, Ohio, were negligent in building a scaffolding in December 1972. Pharis said he suffered back injuries when it fell two months before the wedding.
Cramer said the court can not permit a person to "marry into a cause of action."

The Ohio Legislature took the initial step in March of 1836 to determine the geological structure and resources of the state. The actual survey was finally ordered in March of 1837.

Secretive about travel

Whenever a session of Congress ends there is a flurry of journalistic excitement about lawmakers' trips abroad at the taxpayers' expense. There is sound reason for the implied concern in these stories. For the fact is that, while some of the congressional travel has a clean and significant legislative purpose, some of it smells more like junketing. Congress itself is no help in providing information that would help voters make up their minds about the legitimacy of travel by their representatives in Congress. On the contrary, the Senate and House tend to be secretive.

That attitude emerges from this passage in a United Press International story about the matter: "The State Department's Congressional Travel Office, which usually arranges travel and accommodations will furnish no information on trips, citing the 'wishes of Congress.'

"After all, it's their money and their business," said a State Department official. Isn't it really the people's money and the people's business? We just do what we're told," the State Department man said. "They control our appropriations." Exclamation point.

The Angolan dilemma

To resume our investigation of the Angolan dilemma, let us - for openers - start with the proposition that there is no Angola any more than there was a Laos. The Portuguese settlers, who ran the colonial system, are back in their homeland, and, in administrative terms, there now is probably a better infrastructure at the Copley Plaza hotel in Boston than there is in the former Portuguese colony. Nor is there an Angolan "nation": There is a population composed of roughly 40 per cent Owambundu, near the border of Southwest Africa or Namibia; perhaps a third Bakongo, related to fellow tribesmen next door in Zaire; and the rest of the "citizenry" are scattered among other tribes. Jonas Savimbi's National Union for the Total Independence of Angola (UNITA) is based on the Owambundu; Holden Roberto's National Front for the Liberation of Angola (FLNA) on the Bakongo. Their dedication to democratic values is questionable. However, the real trouble arose because the Portuguese pro-Communist governor general, Admira! Rosa Coutinho, decided, with the support of the then leftist-dominated Armed Forces Movement in Lisbon, to turn Angola over to the Popular Movement for the Liberation of Angola (MPLA) led by Dr. Agostinho Neto, who paradoxically is an "assimilado," an Angolan considered sufficiently civilized to have received Portuguese citizenship.

Whether he is a "Marxist" or not is open to question - I have met a number of Third World "Marxists" who never got through the "Communist Manifesto" - but he has received vigorous arms support from Moscow, military cadres from Castro, and clearly has totalitarian intentions. The Portuguese were also good enough to turn over to him 4,000 Katangese mercenaries, who were in their service after failing to separate the rich province of Katanga from Zaire!

OTHER PLAYERS

A look at the other players makes life even more confusing. President Mobutu Sese Seko of Zaire, backing the FNLA, has his covetous eye on the oil-rich enclave of Cabinda, surrounded by Zaire but run by Angola. President Kenneth Kuanda of Zambia, also supporting FNLA, does not want the vital rail link between his landlocked country and the Angolan port of Benguela to fall under Communist control. The Republic of South Africa wants the southern area of Angola in safe hands: It contains hydroelectric installations that provide the juice for southwest Africa. And Peking has taken a hand in the game, training FNLA recruits in Zaire - although to make life more complex this mission has recently been taken over by North Koreans.

To this weird coalition we must, of course, add the United States C.I.A., which by a triple hand-off (Belgium to Zaire to the FNLA) provided military aid. The C.I.A.'s role has touched off a tidal wave of pious rhetoric in the Senate, which has featured the vicious alliance with South Africa as a factor which will once and for all destroy our standing with the black Africans. (At the moment the Senate has prohibited the use of further U.S. funds; the House will not take the issue up until after the recess.)

TO BE NOTED

I despise "apartheid" and the Afrikaaners who enforce it, but what South Africa's critics fail to note is that the former French colonies in Africa have never objected to France's providing Pretoria with arms. Or the interesting fact that Zambia is getting $800 million worth of oil from Iran through a disguised South African loan. Or that the "Marxists" running Mozambique still provide the harbor of Lourenco Marques as a major port for South African trade and get their electric power from over the border. Moreover, the C.I.A. first intervened at the request of Presidents Mobutu and Kuanda, who surely knew that the South Africans were not going to watch the game from a box seat.

What this all adds up to is a shambles. I certainly don't want a Communist dictatorship in Angola, which has great untapped resources and a strategic location, but neither do I want a precipitous display of American machismo. Furthermore, despite the presence of Castro's cadre of 4000-5000 and all that fancy Soviet hardware, this is not going to be a blitzkrieg. Already one faction of the "Marxist" MPLA has changed sides, and I'd like to see things shake down a good deal more before we announce we are in a "test of wills" with the U.S.S.R. over the future of Africa. It's fine to put some heat on Moscow, but when it comes to U.S. intervention, the non-state of Angola is well down the list of priorities from Germany, Japan, or Israel.

Cleveland senator seeks Ohio glue sniffing bill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A central city legislator from Cleveland wants the Ohio Senate to do something about glue sniffing, a problem he describes as "the poor kids' high."

"Glue sniffing is the poor kids' way of getting high, but its consequences are tragic and deadly," said Sen. Charles L. Butts, D-23 Cleveland. "While glue-sniffing might sound somewhat innocent, the fumes from the glue literally destroy brain cells."

Butts readily agreed that harmful hard drugs were a serious problem in core areas, but he said glue — usually the model airplane variety — was "cheap and available."

His bill, introduced earlier this week, would outlaw the sale of glue unless it contained a noxious additive designed to make users sick before they get high from inhaling fumes.

The reaction of nausea would not be "permanent or dangerous," he said. Butts also wants to crack down on unscrupulous dealers who he claims cater to young users in Cleveland, selling glue "complete with the appropriately-sized paper bag."

The legislation would make it illegal to sell glue when there is reason to believe the product will be abused.

Although it might be difficult to enforce, Butts argues such a law would at least give police authority to keep tabs on suspect retailers.

"This puts some of the burden on store owners to try and clean things up," he said.

Under Ohio law, glue is classified as a harmful intoxicant and using it for the purpose of getting high is a misdemeanor.

However, a spokesman for Atty. Gen. William J. Brown said the two key provisions of Butts' bill were not considered last year when the legislature enacted a wide-ranging new drug law.

Butts said several other states had gotten good results from laws similar to the one he is proposing.

"Hopefully, this effective anti-glue sniffing bill can win quick approval here in the legislature," he said.

The most complete skeleton of a mammoth, ancestor of the elephant, is in Orton Hall of Ohio State University. It was unearthed near Catawba in Clark County. The university also has the skeleton of a mastodon found at Grove City near Columbus.

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Businessman needs

crash course in ABC's

DEAR ABBY: Is it possible to teach a 51-year-old man to speak correct English? Joe (not his real name) went only as far as the fifth grade, and his grammar is terrible.

I have corrected him in private, but he makes the same mistakes repeatedly in public, which I find very embarrassing.

Most of my friends are well educated (so am I), and when Joe and I are in their company, I keep hoping he won't talk much because he is sure to say, "He don't" or, "We was."

He is a fine-looking man of good character who has made a remarkable success in business, but this one fault is too big to overlook.

I guess what I really want to know is: Can a 51-year-old man who is smart in money matters learn proper grammar at his age? Or is it too late?

JOE'S LADY FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: A smart person can learn anything he wants to learn if he's sufficiently motivated. The questions here are, "Does JOE think he needs to learn? And if not, how important is this fault to YOU?"

DEAR ABBY: My wife, and I recently moved into a new home. We love the place, but we're having trouble with our landlord.

He keeps dropping in unexpectedly. I have told him several times that he is welcome anytime, but to please telephone first.

Tonight at 10 p.m., this landlord came over to introduce us to his son! I was in my undershorts watching TV on our bed, and my wife wasn't dressed, either. That nifty man used his passkey and walked right into our bedroom!

Abby, we like our privacy, but how do you tell a man who is 45 years older than you are to please be a little more respectful of your privacy without seeming disrespectful to him?

STATEN ISLANDER

DEAR ISLANDER: Get a "Do Not Disturb" sign and hang it outside your door. If he drops by unexpectedly again, "respectfully" point it out to him.

DEAR ABBY: I have a question I'll bet many secretaries would like to have answered.

In this day of no discrimination and Women's Lib, etc., how does one address a letter to an office of mixed sexes?

It used to be correct to say, "Gentlemen," or "Sirs," even though the writer knew there were women in the office.

SECRETARY OVER 40

DEAR OVER: Try "To whom it may concern." If that strikes you as being too impersonal, how about "Ladies and Gentlemen?" If that's too formal, skip the salutation (it doesn't mean anything, anyway) and get right on with the message.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

ARIES

(March 21 to April 20)

Mars now encourages your spirit of enterprise, more vim for carrying out plans. A dandy outlook, but don't take anything for granted.

TAURUS

(April 21 to May 21)

In a defensive position be circumspect in voicing your opinions, in your approach to others. On the defensive, be gently persuasive rather than argumentative.

GEMINI

(May 22 to June 21)

Organize your program so as to eliminate time - wasting confusion. A good activity day for all Geminians.

CANCER

(June 22 to July 23)

Not everyone will say what he really means or make his best impression now, so give others the benefit of the doubt and most will do the same for you.

LEO

(July 24 to Aug. 23)

Planetary influences only mildly auspicious. Pursue a cautious but flexible program. View things in their true perspective - not as you would like them to be.

VIRGO

(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

Make the most of any good ideas you have and, if need be, enlist the help of others in putting them across. Favorable Mercury influences!

LIBRA

(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

Direct your enthusiasm for worthy causes into progressive channels. You may have to revise previous plans, however. Especially favored: cultural and artistic interests.

SCORPIO

(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

You may be called upon to make some weighty decisions. Do not make them in haste. Careful thought, a realistic attitude and logical thinking needed.

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

Do not become irritated when opposed. Consider: Maybe the other fellow's suggestions are better than you realize. Stress your sense of humor.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

Review finances, domestic situations, children's needs. There may be room for improvement. If an idea seems impractical, discard it immediately.

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

There are tendencies toward emotionalism here. Be alert. You and those about you may tend to blow up situations out of all proportion. Do YOUR part to maintain harmony.

PISCES

(Feb. 20 to March 20)

Tighten up loose ends. As with Aquarius, don't let the day become emotion-charged. Where possible, stick to routine and don't go off on tangents.

YOU BORN TODAY have a strong leaning to the sciences - and, with it, the tremendous patience, meticulousness and fondness for research and details so necessary to success in this field. Your energy and determination are outstanding and you will let nothing stand in the way of achieving your objectives. Also an opportunist, you seize at any chance to advance yourself - even though that chance may look like "pretty small potatoes" to others. Fields other than science, at which you could succeed: the law, literature, banking or real estate. Try to curb tendencies toward moodiness and excessive introspection.

The Serpent Deceives Eve

And the serpent said unto the woman, Ye shall not surely die.
for God doth know that in the day ye eat thereof . . . ye shall be
as gods. — Genesis 3: 4-5

After God had created the earth and then Man to rule its every creature, the lot of Adam was his prime concern. And thus it was that in time He mused, "It is not good that the man should be alone." So, putting him to sleep, he took one of Adam's ribs and from it created Eve, the mother of all mankind. Then, in the midst of the earthly paradise called Eden, He adjured the couple to enjoy the fruits of all the trees save one. "Ye shall not eat of it," He said, "neither shall ye touch it, lest ye die." But came a serpent (the personification of evil) and, with diabolic wile, tempted Eve. Promised omniscience if she would but eat the fruit, Eve yielded—and ate.

Minister watches Soviet religion

AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A friend in Zurich, Switzerland, through telephone contact with another friend in Moscow, relayed word to the Rev. Blahoslav Hruby in New York this week that an outspoken, suspended Russian priest had now been fired from his job as a church caretaker.

That the information made its circuitous way at once to the Rev. Mr. Hruby was typical of the continuous, variously devised vigilance he maintains on the treatment of religion in Communist-ruled countries.

It's a unique service, carried on almost single-handedly by a man who personally kept a jump ahead both of Nazi and Communist foes in wartime Europe, broadcast on Free France radio, gathered intelligence for the U.S. Office of Strategic Services and has myriad, closely guarded sources of information across Europe.

"One way or another, the documents get to me," he says. "Sometimes I don't know all the details of how, and don't want to know because it might jeopardize someone. But we get them."

The Rev. Mr. Hruby, 64, a Czech-born naturalized American and for 14 years editor of the monthly, "Religion in Communist-Dominated Areas," has long been a familiar figure at church gatherings, prodding the churches to speak out against instances of Communist repression of faith.

The "implacable cold warrior," some church officials call him. But they recognize his expertise and respect his passion for religious freedom. Last month, his spade work provided the catalyst for drawn-out ferment at the assembly of the World Council of Churches in Nairobi, Kenya — even though he wasn't there.

But what was there was a letter from two Russian Orthodox churchmen in Moscow, protesting religious persecution and urging the World Council to challenge it — a letter that had made its roundabout way to Hruby, been translated from the Russian by his wife, Olga, and relayed to various officials and others at the assembly.

The letter precipitated a landmark action — the global interdenominational body's first outright criticism of religious restrictions in Communist-ruled Eastern Europe, and the launching of a plan to keep a regular eye on conditions for religion there.

"I'm happy it worked out, even if I wasn't there in person," the Rev. Mr. Hruby said in an interview. "The churches must help those who are being harassed because of their faith, and they must tell the truth to the world."

It's a cause to which he has devoted himself ever since he was forced to flee Hitler's military occupation of Czechoslovakia and France. Later, after ordination to the Presbyterian ministry in this country, he served as an OSS captain in Europe from 1942 to 1947 as the Soviet Union extended its sphere over the East.

"I saw so much under Hitler's dictatorship and what happened under the Communists," he said. "I watched it with my own eyes, and it's still happening. We cannot remain silent. I'm afraid we're under the spell of 'Munich' style appeasement, which betrayed Europe to Hitler, and now people are so

Bible scholar to give speech

Dr. Bernard Northrup, professor of Old Testament literature and languages at Baptist Bible Seminary in Clarks Summit, Pa., will be the guest speaker Sunday at the Fayette Bible Church. Dr. Northrup who received his doctor of theology degree at Dallas Seminary, taught for six years at Dallas Bible College in Dallas, Tex., thirteen years at the San Francisco Baptist Seminary, and four years at the Baptist Bible Seminary in Pennsylvania.

He is a member of the Creation Research Society of America, and has done extensive studies in geology and the research of fossil remains. He has headed a number of geological tours throughout the United States and Canada for the Bible Science Association of America. Numerous meetings and lecture series in Israel, Mexico, Puerto Rico, and Peru have been organized during past summers by Dr. Northrup.

During the evening service, Dr. Northrup will show slides dealing with the subject of creation.

INDIANA EVANGELIST — A revival meeting is scheduled to be held during the week of January 14 through 18, 7:30 p.m. nightly at the Wesleyan Bible Church, 802 E. Paint St. Featured as evangelist will be the Rev. Juddie Peyton of Bedford, Indiana. The program will include singing and preaching. Pastor Robert M. Pratt is in charge of events for the week.

much brainwashed by the rhetoric of detente which approves of all Russia's conquests and oppression. To me, it's a fraud.

"But there still is a spirit of resistance in the free world — a resistance to the pressures of the Communist bloc not only on religious freedom but on political and national freedoms."

The Rev. Mr. Hruby, a balding, bespectacled man, works in offices at 475 Riverside Drive here, turning out his unusual periodical, packed with smuggled documents, details of religious restrictions, protests and samplings of Soviet antireligious cartoons and articles.

He carried material about the pleas for religious liberty of Soviet writer Alexander Solzhenitsyn and physicist Andre Sakharov long before they won Nobel prizes and gained the attention of the world.

The publication has a circulation only of about 3,000, but it's a valued resource to several embassies, intelligence offices, the Pentagon and other federal agencies, as well as to numerous universities and research centers.

It originally was sponsored by the National Council of Churches, which ceased doing so in 1971, leaving the Rev. Mr. Hruby to scrounge for backing among individual supporters, which still include the Lutheran World Federation, the United Presbyterian Church and U.S. Orthodox church bodies.

"It's difficult," he said. "But thank God, we survive."

He's regularly attacked in the Communist press, as he was this past summer by "Tribuna" in his native Czechoslovakia where his mother, 89, still lives and whom he hasn't been able to visit since 1949.

Cathedral-1976 floribunda

CATHEDRAL - is an All-American Rose Selections Award Winner now available at local nurseries.

Winner of six other international awards, CATHEDRAL has rich golden apricot buds that open into large 15-18 petaled, ruffled blooms of softer apricot with exciting salmon tints as the flower matures.

Small fragrant clusters of five to seven blooms are ideal for cutting and are long-lasting in the home. The clusters nestle against glossy olive-green foliage on a hardy, particularly mildew-resistant bushy plant, making a perfect contrast to the brilliant hue of the blooms. Repeat blooms provide a constant show all season long.

CATHEDRAL makes an excellent foreground plant because of its low compact growth to a 30" height,

screening the bases of other roses placed behind it. Used en masse, it becomes a bold stroke of color without shutting off the beauty of the more distant landscape.

Born and bred on the misty Emerald Isle, CATHEDRAL is a product of the famous Irish hybridizer, Sam McGredy, IV. The floribunda has already won the Gold Medal of the City of Portland, Oregon; a Trial Ground Certificate of the Royal National Rose Society of England; Certificate of Merit, Japan; Certificate of Merit, Rouleux, Belgium; Silver Medal, Baden, Germany; and the Gold Star of the South Pacific, New Zealand, as well as the AARS 1976 Award. It is being introduced in this country by Roses by Red Edmunds, Wilsonville, Oregon, and is available at nurseries everywhere.

Choose summer bulbs

You probably aren't doing a whole lot of thinking about gardens and flowers and such these days. But believe it or not, now is the time to decide about your summer flowering bulbs — and depending on your flower choice, you can start planting as early as January.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has a booklet that gives you tips on how to select and care for summer flowering bulbs so you'll be a successful gardener. For a copy of Summer Flowering Bulbs send 25 cents to Consumer Information Center, Dept. 82, Pueblo, Colorado 81009.

Here are some highlights for you: Select healthy, mature bulbs. This means a bulb that is firm and with an unblemished skin.

If you buy bulbs before planting time, keep them in a cool, dry area. A temperature of 60 to 65 degrees is cool enough to prevent most bulbs from drying out until you plant them.

Before you prepare the new flowerbeds, test the drainage of the soil. Dig a hole about a foot deep and fill it with water. The next day, fill the hole with water again, and see how long it remains. If the water drains away in 8 to 10 hours, the soil will drain well enough for planting. If the water stays in the hole after 10 hours, you'll need to improve the drainage. You can do this by digging furrows along the sides of the future flower bed, and adding the soil from the furrows to the bed.

Dig and plant your flowerbeds when the soil is fairly dry. Wet soil packs tightly and retards plant growth.

consumer publications listed in the Winter edition of the Consumer Information Index. Published quarterly by the Consumer Information Center of the General Services Administration, you can get a free copy of the Index by writing Consumer Information Center, Pueblo, Colo. 81009.

A versatile vegetable -- sweet Carolina yams

The yam is a versatile vegetable — its mellow taste and texture prevail whether it's boiled, baked, browned, fried or candied. It lends itself to all kinds of recipes, from sweetpotato desserts to bread and muffins, and it can be easily used to make a meatloaf more interesting and nutritious.

Sweet Carolina yams are available in great volume from now through April, so they're in peak supply and a good buy. The best yams are chunky, medium-sized ones which taper toward the ends, with smooth, unscarred skins and a firm texture.

Yams can bind and extend meat; in Carolina Yam Meatloaf, they also live up to a weekly classic for the budget-conscious family. For a fancier version, try the Carolina Yam Pinwheel Meatloaf. Cooked mashed yams are spread over a ground beef mixture shaped into a rectangle. The combination is rolled and baked; when the loaf is cut, the yams circle in colorful pinwheel contrast.

In addition to their culinary virtuosity, yams are very nourishing; it is reported that the natives of western New Guinea's highlands live almost entirely on them. As a vegetable high in vitamins A and C and with a good amount of other vitamins and minerals, yams are said to be one of the most complete foods known. With so many benefits — nourishment, economy, year-round availability, and the many ways they can be used — yams are indeed versatile.

CAROLINA YAM MEATLOAF

3 cups shredded pared North Carolina yams (about 2 medium yams)
1 1/2 pounds ground beef
1/2 cup finely chopped fresh onion
1/4 cup finely chopped fresh green pepper

1 tomato, peeled and chopped
1 egg, slightly beaten
2 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon ground pepper

Shred yams on coarse grater, place in a bowl, cover with boiling water and let stand 10 minutes, until soft. Drain well. Combine with remaining ingredients in bowl; mix well. Pat mixture into 8 x 4-inch loaf pan or shape into loaf in shallow baking pan. Bake in 350 F. oven 45 minutes. Let stand 5 minutes before serving. Makes: 6 to 8 servings.

CAROLINA YAM PINWHEEL MEATLOAF

2 cups mashed cooked North Carolina yams (2 large yams)
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 small fresh onion, chopped
1 clove garlic, crushed
1 teaspoon dried leaf marjoram
1 1/2 teaspoons salt, divided
1 egg, slightly beaten
1/4 cup milk
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 pound ground beef

Wash yams and place in saucepan. Add water to cover and simmer 25 to 30 minutes, until tender. Drain, peel and mash. Melt butter in skillet; add onion, garlic and marjoram, and cook until onion is tender. Add mashed yams, 1/2 teaspoon salt and mix well. Combine egg, milk, pepper and remaining 1/2 teaspoon salt in bowl; add ground beef and mix well. Pat meat mixture into a 10 x 8-inch rectangle on waxed paper. Spread yam mixture over meat, leaving 1/2-inch margin around edges. Roll up, jelly-roll fashion, beginning with narrow side. Place roll seam side down in a 8 x 4-inch loaf pan. Bake in 350 F. oven 50 minutes. Let stand 5 minutes before cutting. Makes: 6 servings.

Young driver needs practice

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Todd Lindhorst may not remember his first time in the driver's seat, but his mother will find it pretty hard to forget.

Sarah Lindhorst, 25, started the family car and then got out to clear snow from the windshield, when she got out Todd, her 2-year-old son, got behind the steering wheel and pulled on the gearshift lever. As the car started moving Mrs. Lindhorst tried to get the door open, slipped and fell and caught her ankle in the car door.

She was dragged about 30 feet before her ankle came free, but then the car ran over the ankle, jumped a curb, moved between two trees and finally came to rest after striking the rear of a house directly behind the Lindhorst home.

Mrs. Lindhorst was treated for bruises, but Todd was uninjured.

Distinctively Adairs . . .

CHAIR

If you've been looking at prices, you know what's happening to chairs. Well, Adairs found a man, Elliot Wood, who has succeeded in doing something about the high price of quality chairs.

His company is WOODMARK, and they have a factory designed from the ground up to produce upholstered chairs, and only upholstered chairs. The first of its kind ever. A specialization that streamlines production to cut every cost except the quality of construction materials and fabrics.

The result is a chair that in our opinion is comparable to chairs costing almost twice as much. Most Woodmark chairs, covered in finer quality fabrics can be purchased from only $229 to $279. There are over 40 styles and more than 250 decorative fabrics to choose from.

These are chairs you can't buy just anywhere, and we are pleased to be Woodmark's headquarters in this part of Ohio.

Woodmark value — another reason why people come to Adairs, not only from the Clinton-Fayette County area, but from all over Ohio, and northern Kentucky.

There's a lot of truth in that better mousetrap story. Come in and see why we're so pleased to be able to offer our customers the Woodmark Chair.

Huntington Bank offers film of Ohio's history

"A Change of Worlds," a bicentennial film telling the story of Ohio's history in the last 200 years, is now available through Huntington Banks. The full-color, 28-minute motion picture is the official film of the Ohio American Revolution Bicentennial Advisory Commission and was made possible through a grant from Huntington Banks.

According to Richard E. Whiteside, president of The Huntington Bank of Washington Court House, the film is available to schools, clubs, churches and community groups for showings on a reservation basis by contacting any Huntington Bank. In addition, a filmstrip telling how the film was made will be given to all school districts in Ohio for their permanent use.

"Huntington Banks is proud to be a part of this meaningful bicentennial effort," said Arthur D. Herrmann, president of Huntington Bancshares, Inc.

"A Change of Worlds," filmed throughout the State of Ohio, is told in an entertaining yet historically factual way, with a serious bicentennial theme. It depicts basic human values, such as love and integrity, enduring despite rapidly developing material concerns.

In the film, designed for viewers of all ages, the spirit of Tecumapese, sister of the Great Indian Chief Tecumseh, comes to life after 200 years. She is granted a brief bicentennial visit by Moneto, the Creator, but she can be seen and heard by only one person, a young college history student named Wil. As they travel to many points of interest in Ohio, Wil explains some of the changes that have taken place during the past two centuries.

A prologue and epilogue are presented by George Chakiris, a native Ohioan who received an Academy Award for this performance in "West Side Story". The film stars Diana Bilek, a full-blooded Indian, as Tecumapese and Howard Pinhasik as Wil.

Any group or organization interested in obtaining the film may contact Whiteside at the Huntington Bank for further information.

Those who did not watch the Monday night news cast on Channel 10-TV, Columbus, missed an opportunity to see a visual illustration of the Deaf Educational Assistance Facility (DEAF) at work in Fayette County.

A five-minute television broadcast depicted members of the organization performing those tasks which embody DEAF's goal to inform the public of the difficulties present in the lives of deaf people, and their ability to overcome such problems.

Cincinnati artist sets Wilmington exhibition

WILMINGTON — The fourth show in the 1975-76 Wilmington College Professional Exhibition Series will begin Sunday, January 11 and continue through Friday, February 20. It will feature weavings, drawings, and lithographs by the artist, Rosalea, of Cincinnati.

The exhibit will be shown in the College's Boyd Auditorium Gallery. Hours are 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday. The Gallery is closed each Saturday.

There is no admission charge.

A reception for the artist will be held in the Gallery from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday, January 11. Rosalea received a B.F.A. degree in Design from the University of Kansas in 1965. She also attended Bethel College, North Newton, Kan.; Goshen College, Goshen, Ind.; the Wichita Art Association School and the Kansas City Art Academy.

Rosalea grew up in Kansas, the daughter of a Mennonite farmer and saw her first movie at the age of 19. She has become well-known in Kansas and Oklahoma for her program of distributing, at no charge, small lithographs, she has designed, each about one-inch square.

Each of the tiny lithographs is printed in yellow and black and carries this inscription on the back: "Rosalea was here and left this miniature print for the finder's enjoyment. Look for others in unusual places throughout the country. You may want to collect and trade them. This is a gift; it is not to be sold by anyone. Limited edition of 1900. Copyrighted Rosalea Hostetler 1975 c-o Rosalea's Hotel, Harper, Kansas 67058."

The little prints are apt to be found almost anywhere — in stores, restaurants, phone booths, or in friends' homes. It is Rosalea's way of protesting the lack of appreciation for living artists, saying that if people won't buy her work, she'll give it away, in small size.

She feels this program gets people talking about art — the first step, perhaps, toward appreciating it.

Fox drive held by Jeff Lions

JEFFERSONVILLE — The Jeffersonville Lions Club held its annual fox drive Dec. 27 and club president Fred Stires called the event a success with Bob Wright shooting one fox.

A soup, bean and cornbread dinner was served to the hunters in the club's new building.

Earlier in the month the Lions held their annual Christmas party.

The Lions and their families enjoyed a ham and turkey dinner prepared by Lee Montcastle and the Lions wives. After the dinner Santa Claus visited and the guest speaker, Emerson Marting, an area auctioneer and farmer, spoke on the opportunities for young people in America.

Compromise averts IMF deadlock

KINGSTON, Jamaica (AP) — The United States and other industrialized nations have agreed to a compromise plan to increase lending to poor nations, averting a deadlock at a high-level meeting of the International Monetary Fund here.

Under the plan hammered out at a dinner meeting of finance ministers Wednesday night, about $3 billion more will be made available for lending to all nations, with a major share for underdeveloped countries, as part of the IMF's regular lending program.

The plan is part of a package of financial and monetary reforms that is expected to receive the final approval of the IMF's interim committee at a meeting today.

U.S. Treasury Secretary William E. Simon was the last holdout against the expanded lending plans, claiming they were not needed and would add to worldwide inflation. But he told reporters Wednesday night, "We'll finalize the agreement tomorrow as I promised you."

Denis Healey, the British finance

minister, said the ministers were in "total agreement on everything."

It appeared that the United States went along with the compromise lending program to get approval for other parts of the package it wanted, including the sale of IMF gold, a new system of foreign exchange rates and expanded contribution quotas for the 128 member nations of the IMF.

WC professor to be honored

WILMINGTON — Martin G. Giesbrecht, Professor and Chairman of the Department of Economics and Business Administration at Wilmington College, has been invited to become a Founding Member of the Economics Section of the Ohio Academy of Science.

Giesbrecht, who is the author of The Evolution of Economic Society (1973), has been a Wilmington faculty member since 1958. He also serves as a director of the Ohio Association of Economists and Political Scientists.

This past summer he was selected to join 19 physicists and engineers from across the nation at Stanford University to brainstorm a design for constructing habitable environments for human space colonies. This project, conducted at the Ames Research Center, was sponsored by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) and the American Society for Engineering Education.

Spray halts tree damage

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — A three-year spraying program has resulted in the control of a tree-killing disease which has held down natural rubber production in Brazil, the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. announced Thursday.

Winter spraying of standard American fungicides on trees of the firm's 10,000-acre Brazilian plantation has controlled the South American leaf blight disease, said Jack Riedl, general manager of Goodyear's rubber division.

He said the disease, which attacks the leaves of young rubber trees, had virtually wiped out the plantation in the mid-1960s.

Control of the disease could make Brazil, which now produces less than one per cent of the world's natural rubber, a major competitor of the Far East where most of the world's natural rubber is grown, he added.

Last year, the September yield of the plantation was up 75 per cent and the October yield was up 78 per cent, compared with those of the preceding year, Riedl said.

Students protest tuition increase

KENT, Ohio (AP) — Students protesting a recent tuition increase interrupted Kent State University trustees Thursday who at their meeting approved collective bargaining with the faculty.

The interruption came before the trustees went into executive session to discuss the bargaining resolution which authorized preliminary discussions with the United Faculty Professional Association which the faculty had selected as its bargaining agent during an October election. The trustees vote on the matter was 5-4.

Between 75 and 150 persons tried to enter the board's meeting room, authorities said.

Appalachian counties growing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — People are moving back to rural Appalachian counties in Ohio and, according to Dr. Donald W. Thomas, unemployment and changing values among city dwellers may have a lot to do with the trend.

Dr. Thomas, an associate professor of agricultural economics and rural sociology, contends the counties now growing by substantial numbers are the very ones that people moved out of during the early 1960s.

Outward migration was to the big cities and high-paying industrial jobs back in the 1960s and the population of urban counties grew by leaps and bounds, he said.

But according to U.S. Census Bureau estimates he studied recently that trend is reversing itself.

Thomas said the urban counties of Cuyahoga (Cleveland), Summit (Akron), Hamilton (Cincinnati), Montgomery (Dayton), Clark (Springfield) and Lucas (Toledo) all have lost population in the last five years, and the predominantly rural counties apparently are gathering in the migrants.

He said, "Adams County down on the Ohio River, for example, had the highest growth rate of any county in the state last year and it's definitely from in-migration, not increased birth rates."

He said, "historically, in times of high inflation and unemployment in this country, urban growth has slowed. The Great Depression of the 1930s was the last big period of rural growth in this country."

"Let's face it, if you were originally from Appalachia, had moved to Cleveland or Detroit to work in auto plants, and suddenly found yourself laid off with little prospect of callback," he asked, "where would you rather be unemployed—in the city where it's expensive to live, or back home with relatives, where the cost of living isn't nearly as high?"

The changing energy picture, bringing an increased demand for coal, naturally hasn't hurt the Appalachian counties of Ohio, Thomas said. The hike in coal production in rural areas, plus the movement of some major manufacturing plants from urban areas to relatively low-cost rural sections also has been a factor in the population shift, providing more jobs for those leaving the cities, he added.

He said a big factor in the trend toward rural population increases is the change in values among young people. And he cites the numbers of recently married couples brought up in urban areas who want to get out of the city.

"For these people, the suburbs are too expensive and don't really meet their objectives of lower crime rates and a slower paced life." Places they can go to find these things, he said, are in the counties of southern and eastern Ohio. "Such people are apparently willing to accept a slightly lower standard of living, trading income for life in a clean environment with less crime at a rural pace."

Counties in the southern and eastern sections of the state which have shown considerable population growth since 1970 are: Highland, Adams, Pike, Scioto, Jackson, Vinton, Gallia, Meigs, Perry, Morgan, Noble, Muskingum, Guernsey, Belmont, Harrison and Jefferson.

Henry Ford, wife separate

GROSSE POINTE FARMS, Mich. (AP) — Henry Ford II and his wife, Cristina, have separated and are now living apart, Ford's attorney says.

Alan Schwartz, a Detroit attorney who said he represents Ford, refused Thursday to comment on whether divorce proceedings had begun.

The couple was married in February 1965. It was the second marriage for Ford, 58, board chairman of Ford Motor Co. His first marriage to Anne McDonnell Ford ended in divorce in 1964 after 24 years.

Mrs. Ford, 46, is the former Maria Cristina Vettore Austin, an international jet-setter. The couple had no children.

Ford, grandson of auto pioneer Henry Ford, was in the news last February when he was arrested for driving under the influence of alcohol in Goleta, Calif., in the company of a professional model, Kathleen DuRoss, 36. Mrs. Ford was in Katmandu, Nepal, at the time.

Barney Oldfield, the first great driver of racing cars, was born in Wauseon, Ohio, in 1878.

Fraternity house blaze investigated

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A fire official says residents of a fraternity house where two Ohio State University students died Thursday tried to contain a fire that destroyed the structure.

The victims were James Nelson Mitchell, 20, of Washington, Pa. and a 22-year-old woman, tentatively identified as Vicky Lynn Toms, 22, of Farmersville, who was helping 20 other residents escape the three-story Alpha Rho Chi building.

Both died of smoke inhalation, fire officials said tentatively.

Mark F. Heinz, 18, of Toledo was hospitalized in critical condition with severe burns over more than half his body. He was burned as he ran through flames out the rear door of the house. "There was an initiation ceremony," said Brad Quicksall, a fire department information officer. "They had papers gathered very deep all around the house."

"Part of the ceremony was that after the others (fraternity members) went to bed, pledges were supposed to clean up. They threw papers in a (open) fireplace."

"As often happens when you burn paper in a fireplace, they came out. The kids grabbed the papers and tried to throw them back in. They thought they had all the paper when they saw a couch on fire behind them," Quicksall said. The fire then spread.

"They did everything they could, but there wasn't much to do at the time," he said.

It took two hours, until 4 a.m., for firemen to control the blaze.

Jury hears plant blast claim

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — The attorney for the Rev. David N. Bubar, a Tennessee minister and psychic, told a federal court jury Thursday his client "knew nothing about" the March 1 bombing of the Sponge Rubber Products Co. plant in nearby Shelton.

Bubar is accused of directing eight Pennsylvania men in the placing of explosives at the factory at the request of the company's president, Charles D. Moeller of Cridersville, Ohio. The minister was Moeller's friend and spiritual adviser.

In a three-hour defense summation, attorney Rudolph L. Zalowitz, with Bubar's Bible open in front of him, several times drew parallels between his client's ordeal and that of Jesus Christ shortly before his crucifixion.

The 48-year-old Bubar, of Memphis, who claimed to have used psychic powers to predict the Shelton holocaust, declined to testify in the trial for unspecified religious reasons.

Zalowitz described the government's key witness as a "pathological liar" who was "coached" by the prosecution.

He said the federal government used the "big lie," referring to U.S. Atty. Peter Dorsey's claim that evidence was found in "Bubar's car." The defense attorney pointed out the car belonged to the company and the evidence could have been put there by anyone.

The key witness, John Shaw of Pittsburgh, Pa., testified Bubar told him and other defendants that the "owners" of the plant wanted it destroyed.

The minister was at the plant March 1 to supervise placing of dynamite and gasoline delivered in drums to the building, Shaw added.

Zalowitz did not dispute other testimony that Bubar was at the plant the same day but noted the drums delivered then were the same type as those used to store a harmless chemical used at the plant.

Before Bubar's summation, a lawyer for Donald "Blackie" Connors, 40, of Butler, Pa. described how his client drove a truck allegedly containing the explosives to Shelton but was innocent of any involvement in the plot.

The government has argued the destruction was planned to gain insurance benefits.

Both Connors and Bubar listened intently as their attorneys summed up their defenses. All nine defendants were in court for the second day of defense arguments.

At one point Bubar rose and handed a note to Zalowitz as the lawyer addressed the 12-member jury.

Zalowitz devoted much of the three hours allotted him in describing Bubar's religious background and the faith in the "supreme being" he and his client shared. He gave much less emphasis to his client's claim of innocence.

"Rev. Bubar is going through one of the most unique, perhaps most excruciating, experiences a member of the clergy has gone through since the infamous crucifixion of Jesus Christ," he said.

The minister has a reputation of always giving succor, or help, to others and the government has made him the "sucker" by charging him in the case, the lawyer said.

The jury must decide whether to believe the characterization of Bubar as a "spiritual Christian" or to believe Shaw, "a well prepared, well coached

Cincy firemen approve contract

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati's 974 firemen Thursday accepted by a 3-to-1 margin a one-year contract calling for a seven per cent salary boost in 1976.

The firemen became the first of three unions representing 6,000 city workers to settle with the city.

Firemen, police and nonuniformed employees have been working without contracts since midnight Dec. 31.

The package provides a pay boost of $957 a year to $14,631, plus a one per cent increase in fringe benefits.

Find man guilty in murder case

Williamsport man says students not apathetic

Ohio State's board chairman has high regard for students

COLUMBUS — John Dunlap gives the impression he'd be more at home leaning against the railing of the front porch than shifting his large frame in an overstuffed chair in Ohio State University's Faculty Club.

Bespectacled and ruddy-faced, Ohio State University's chairman of the board of trustees is a nationally recognized agricultural leader. With generations of Dunlaps farming the Scioto Valley before him, John H. Dunlap Jr., of Williamsport, has farmed all his life and now owns or manages 31 farms totaling more than 13,000 acres. He also has a contracting company which specializes in soil conservation, building lakes, ponds, levees, terraces and ditches.

He has served on many advisory boards and commissions related to agriculture and natural resources, and in 1967, was named National Wildlife Conservationist of the Year. Appointed an Ohio State University trustee by Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes in 1968, his term will end in 1977.

A 1928 graduate of Ohio State University, Dunlap was active in Scarlet and Mask, treasurer of his senior class and the former student senate, president of Kappa Sigma social fraternity, and a member of the athletic board. He disagrees with the notion that today's students are apathetic by comparison.

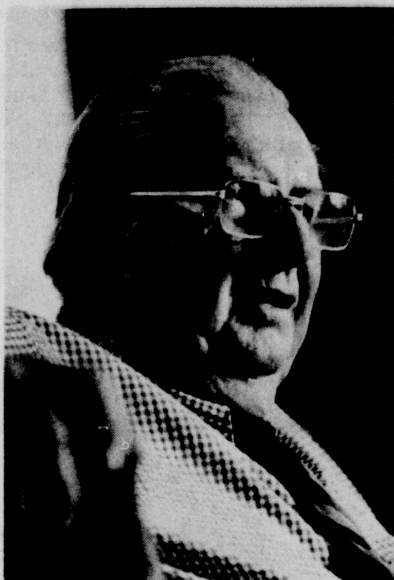

"They're wholesome — more honest than we were," he said. "They don't hide what they think, but come right out and say it. Why, you'd be surprised how many phone calls I get from students and parents, telling me what they think about a lot of things. I admire that kind of responsiveness."

"Not that I always agree with them," he added. "And I don't mean I'm right all the time. But I like to think I am," he chuckled.

His regard for students shows in his attitude concerning the possibility of their serving on the board of trustees.

"I'm not against students on the board, although it's not really my prerogative," he said. "We have some awfully good students here. I just don't want to turn the whole thing over to them. We need young ideas, but they should be balanced by experience. I don't want to go off the deep end either way."

What's the most pressing issue the board faces? Without much hesitation,

he answered, "I suppose that would be the financial end of it. I'd hate to see fees raised any more."

"Actually, Ohio State is much better off than most of the state supported schools," he continued. "It has a wonderful faculty and administration. Now, president Harold Enarson — he's a whale of a good man. Best friend the students have."

Does he see any indication of student disruption looming in the future?

"No. Back in 1968, there was a sort of viciousness on the part of students — throwing bricks through windows and that kind of thing. I don't think that will happen again. A lot of the issues, such as minority recruiting in the professional schools, will only be solved with time. There's no immediate solution."

What about the seriousness with which students tackle their studies?

"They have it harder now than when I went to school," he said. "More is expected of them, simply because they're better fitted, better equipped to come to school than we were. Television, radio, all the news media have prepared them — sometimes too much, I think."

How does he regard lenient grading systems in the U. S. colleges and universities?

"I guess I'm pretty tough about this second chance business," he said. "Of course, sometimes there are extenuating circumstances, but in general, the business world won't give young people a second chance. It's a pretty cold world out there, and they'd better learn to get it right the first time."

What does he think about the mammoth growth he's witnessed at Ohio State University in recent years?

"I think a university, just like a business, can get too big," he warned, "and I'd say Ohio State is about big enough. Growth is wonderful as long as you keep quality. That's what's important. And I believe Ohio State is managing to balance the two well."

Dunlap served as vice chairman of the trustees in 1972-73 and 1974-75 and also as vice chairman of the board of control of the Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center at Wooster for the same periods. A native of Williamsport, he has been a director of Ohio State's Research Foundation since 1970.

State board eyes measures

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Teacher education at six colleges and universities may be expanded and two religious schools charters are items on the agenda for the state Board of Education this month.

Schools proposing new teacher certification are Ashland College, supervisor and reading supervisor; Baldwin-Wallace College, supervisor, elementary principal and secondary principal; Case Western Reserve, learning disabilities and-or behavior disorders; Miami University, communications; Ohio State University, school nurse, and Otterbein College, earth science.

Charters to be considered Jan. 12 are for Dayton Christian-North school in Dayton and Ramah Junior Academy in Cleveland.

The board also will consider completing assignment of six school districts to two joint vocational schools.

The districts include Amanda-Clearcreek, Berne Union, Bloom Carroll, Fairfield Union, and Walnut Township, all in Fairfield County and all assigned to Tri-County Joint Vocational School District, and Liberty-Benton, Hancock County,

assigned to Penta-County JVS.

Designated arrangements for vocational education services were made pending appeal at the November board meeting. Thirty days were granted for appeal of assignments. Liberty Union-Thurston Local in Fairfield County appealed an assignment to Tri-County JVS and a hearing will be held.

Other action to be considered includes allocating work-study funds of $22,462 to 17 school districts; approval to Waterloo and Rootstown local districts in Portage County to seek voter approval of bond issues for $300,000 and $800,000; transferring territory from Lakota Local School District to Fostoria City District, and dissolving the Fairfield Joint Vocational School District.

Repeal of three measures okayed

BLOOMINGBURG — The Bloomingburg village council not only reorganized during its first meeting of 1976, but it also repealed three ordinances "passed" by council on Dec. 29.

Shortly after councilman Ronnie Brown was elected president of the legislative body and new council members Charles Hunt Jr., and William Bennett were seated, council repealed ordinances which had established village subdivision regulations, zoning rules as well as council guidelines.

Several members of council questioned the validity of the ordinances which narrowly passed at the final 1975 meeting. None had been presented for the usual three readings, and they were approved by a slim 3-3 vote with the mayor's tie-breaking vote providing a 4-3 vote in favor. The council members who objected stated that the vote was insufficient to warrant passage with the three-readings rule suspended.

Walter Seifried, the village solicitor, had not been present at the December meeting, and after reviewing the minutes, he stated that the ordinances were not valid, in his opinion. He said that passage with the suspension of rules in effect required a three-fourths vote of council and could not be passed by a simple majority.

Brown, Dan Thompson and Michael Simpson had opposed the measures at the prior meeting because they felt they had not had sufficient time to study the legislation before it was presented for passage. No objections to the ordinances themselves were raised, and it appears likely that the same bills or very similar ones will be resubmitted for consideration in the near future.

Hunt and Bennett were elected to the council in November, replacing incumbents Mrs. Irene Grim and Mrs. Pattie Jenkins. Mrs. Judy Ward ousted incumbent Robert Grim in the Clerk's contest and served her first meeting in that capacity.

Brown, who succeeded Simpson as president, will preside at council meetings in the event of absence of Mayor Max E. Grim, who is beginning his third term. The mayor normally presides.

Mayor's committees were appointed during the reorganizational meeting. Committeemen are listed below with the chairman listed first:

Finance committee, John Fehl, Simpson and Brown; safety, Brown, Simpson and Bennett; street lighting, Hunt, Thompson and Bennett; drainage, Thompson, Hunt and Brown; sidewalks, Bennett, Thompson and Hunt; streets, Simpson, Brown and Fehl; and personnel, Fehl, Brown and Simpson.

NEW WATER rates had become effective in the village Dec. 15. The rate to non-commercial users was raised $2 per month across the board. Although the base rate is determined by the number of fixtures in each home, the increase was a flat fee of $6 per quarter for each user. Commercial rates were increased $2.25 per 1,000 gallons used.

The new rates were prompted by an overhaul of the village water facility. Council had earlier authorized $12,000 for repair of the water tower, and the repairs are now underway. In addition, council has advertised for bids on the drilling of a second well and enlargement of the water filtering system. The advertising period for this project has not expired, but the project has an estimated cost of $150,000. The latter project is to be financed by a Farmers Home Administration loan.

Advertisement for bids on the village's estimated $1 million sewer project is also underway, and new sewer rates will be established after a contract is awarded. The sewer project is being funded by a $745,725 federal grant in addition to a 30-year FHA loan. Sewer revenue will be used to repay the loan.

Bids on several projects relative to the water and sewer programs will be opened and discussed at a special council session at 2 p.m. Jan. 22. Council will meet twice that week, once for the regular meeting the night of Jan. 20 and again the afternoon of Jan. 22.

B'burg post office bows out as Ohio Bell payment agency

Because of a reduction in clerical staff, the Bloomingburg Post Office no longer will accept payments for Ohio Bell Telephone Co. bills.

Mrs. Susan Link, Ohio Bell Telephone Co. commercial manager in Washington C. H., said those persons who paid their bills at the post office can use one of five other authorized payment agencies in the Washington C. H. area listed on page 11 of the telephone directory.

Checks or money orders should be mailed to P. O. Box 1939, Columbus, Ohio, 43216. Envelopes which can be used to mail payments directly to the Company are enclosed with telephone bills.

"We regret losing the post office as an agent," Mrs. Link said. "Postmaster Donna Stephenson and her staff have been an efficient and valued help to both Ohio Bell and telephone customers in the area for many years."

The agency handled about 150 telephone bills monthly.

Brown joins Kresge suit

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ohio Atty. Gen. William J. Brown has joined in a petition here which seeks to stop the S.S. Kresge Co. from going to Hamilton County courts to file suits against customers who owe the company money.

Brown and the Cleveland Legal Aid Society filed a petition in Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court Thursday, charging that the company uses "deceptive and unconscionable" practices to collect money from customers.

The petition says Kresge, which does business throughout the state, files suits in Hamilton County against customers who do not pay bills on time.

After getting judgments against the customers, the store then takes action to collect the money in the counties where the customers live, Brown said.

The petition asked for a ruling that such suits filed by the store must be filed either in the county where the customer lives or where the purchase was made.

Jobless claims show decline

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Unemployment benefits claims were down in Ohio at the start of the year, the Bureau of Employment Services said Thursday.

Initial compensation under state and federal programs dropped to 31,851 for the week ended Jan. 3, compared to 34,150 for the week ended Dec. 27. That compares to 41,928, the number of recipients during an average week in January of last year.

Shelby County sheriff resigns

SIDNEY, Ohio (AP) — Shelby County Prosecutor Norman Smith has announced the resignation of Sheriff Don Knasel and the temporary appointment of deputy Paul Gies as acting sheriff.

Smith said Knasel's resignation followed an investigation of the sheriff's office by the prosecutor.

Knasel, who has served as sheriff since February 1971, was not available for comment.

The first white man believed to have seen the Ohio River was Rene Robert Cavalier, Sieur de la Salle. He first heard of the river from the Seneca Indians in 1666 when he moved to Canada at the age of 23.

Johnny Miller has watery woes

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Johnny Miller's fantastic string of successes in the Arizona desert — he had led every round of every tournament in this state since Jan. 12, 1974 — came to a watery and woeful end.

"It was an easy seven," Miller said with a half-hearted reach for humor in a completely humorless situation.

"Not only did I hit it in the water, I had to three-putt on top of it," said Miller, bitterly disappointed, completely subdued, almost in tears and speaking just above a whisper.

All his troubles were centered on the 460-yard, par-four 18th hole of the Tucson National Golf Club course.

In the gathering gloom of late afternoon, Miller went to that final tee needing a birdie to tie journeyman Gibby Gilbert at six-under par 66 for the firstround lead Thursday in the $200,000 Tucson Open.

But Miller pushed his drive to the right in the shimmering water of a man-made lake that has provided so many heartaches in this old event. He finished the hole with a triple bogey, a round of 70 and was four strokes back in the first competitive round of the 1976 pro golf tour.

"It was a terrible shot," Miller said.

"I never thought I would do what I did, but I did it. It just came from out of the blue. I can't believe it."

He tried a little smile. It didn't quite come off.

"But I'm not in bad position. I'll be all right. Really, I played pretty good. I just hit that one bad shot."

But that one shot turned the whole tournament around.

From his customary position among the leaders Miller, record-setting winner of this event the last couple of seasons, suddenly was well back in the pack.

Tom Weiskopf, who became the center of a raging controversy when he missed the cut for the last two rounds of this tournament a year ago, rode a birdie-eagle-par-birdie string to a 67, one stroke back of the leading Gilbert, a consistent money-winner and a one-time winner in seven years of tour activity.

The group at 68, two off the pace and two ahead of Miller, was composed of Dave Hill, Phil Rogers, Curtis Sifford, Larry Nelson, Frank Conner and Jim Simons.

British Open champion Tom Watson was at 70 despite losing four strokes to par over the last four holes.

Lee Trevino matched par 72 despite three three-putts.

Arnold Palmer, now 46 and without an American victory for three years, struggled to a fat 77 and appeared likely to miss the cut for the last two days' activity.

Smith's 51 ruins Phoenix

By The Associated Press

"We might have stopped him with a seven-man line and four linebackers," said Phoenix Coach John MacLeod. Unfortunately, the game was called basketball — Golden State style.

And Phil Smith played it to the hilt. Smith scored 51 points Thursday night in Golden State's 129-113 National Basketball Association romp over the Suns. It was the most points scored this year by an NBA player and, by far, Smith's best night as a pro.

The 6-foot-4 guard out of the University of San Francisco had never scored more than 27 points in a pro game — 34 was his college high. He scored 20 points in the third quarter, when he made all eight of his field goal attempts and scored 16 consecutive Golden State points. At one point, he made 13 straight field goal attempts.

"Someone told me he was making a lot of points," said Golden State Coach Al Attles, "so I wanted to make sure he would get at least 50. They started to get the ball to him and he just made them."

WCH-Circleville set Saturday

SCOL cage games postponed

The Washington C. H. and Miami Trace cage teams will take the night off because of the icy road conditions.

The Blue Lions' contest with Circleville has been rescheduled for Saturday night. The important SCOL game will be played at the Mill Street Gym and it will start at 6:30 p.m.

Miami Trace's game with Greenfield McClain has been tentatively rescheduled for Tuesday evening.

The Unioto-Hillsboro contest was also postponed, but no date has been set yet for the game. The Wilmington-Madison Plains game was still in doubt at press time. Wilmington High School did hold classes today, but Madison Plains was closed and no school officials could be reached on the matter.

By PHIL LEWIS

Record-Herald Sports Editor

After a three-week lull in the South Central Ohio League cage schedule, a full slate of league games will be on tap tonight with the Washington C.H.-Circleville matchup highlighting the action.

Another major contest will pit the Miami Trace Panthers against the Greenfield McClain Tigers. Wilmington, which is tied for second in the league with Washington C.H. and Miami Trace, will take on Madison Plains and Hillsboro will host Unioto.

WASHINGTON AT CIRCLEVILLE

The Blue Lions seem to have ironed out some problems after snapping a two-game losing streak with an impressive win over Hillsboro Tuesday night.

Court House coach Gary Shaffer, who

was reportedly displeased with a lack of senior leadership, started juniors Sam McClendon and Dee Foster in place of Chuck Byrd and Scott Sefton against the Indians.

Both former bench warmers answered the call admirably and McClendon tossed in eight points. The high-scoring Byrd, who has been starting for the past three years, came off the bench to toss in 16 points. The two performances could put McClendon and Byrd in the starting backcourt against the league leading Tigers.

Sophomore John Denen and seniors Doug Phillips and Ken Upthegrove should also get Shaffer's starting call. Regardless of who starts at the Mill Street Gym tonight for the Blue Lions, Shaffer's squad will have its hands full with the tough and deliberate Tigers.

The quick feet of guard Mike McCoy, the shooting eye of Biff Bumgarner and the board strength of George Moore have kept the Tigers undefeated this season.

Defense is as important to Circleville as offense, and first-year coach Jim Bailey has tutored his Tigers in the finer points of the man-to-man. However, the Blue Lions may see a zone thrown up at their end of the court, if the going gets tough for Bailey's squad.

Washington C.H. has been having trouble with the zone all season, and although the Tigers are the favorites—Circleville can't afford to take chances with the explosive Blue Lion five.

MIAMI TRACE AT GREENFIELD

The Panthers may have found their

starting lineup with the insertion of Bill Hanners at Miami Traces problem spot, the pivot.

The 6-3 sophomore blended in well with the other starters, Allan Conner, Dan Gifford, Rod Garringer and Art Schlichter, in Tuesday's romp at Unioto.

A tougher test will come tonight when the Panthers meet McClain at Greenfield's spacious new fieldhouse.

The Tiger's dropped from a second place tie with the Panthers, Washington C.H. and Wilmington after a Tuesday loss to the Hurricane, but they still sport an impressive 6-3 overall mark.

McClain doesn't put many points on the board, but neither does the opposition as Coach Sam Snyder emphasizes defense to his inexperienced squad.

The probable target for Snyder's defense this week will be Conner, but Garringer and Gifford can also find the hoop.

Snyder usually goes with all-league center Steve Harvey; Chris Nelson and Tim Dreher, two 6-1 forwards; and guards Eric Dunson and Jim Jones.

If the Tigers can stop Miami Trace's fastbreak, they will definitely have a chance to send the Panthers home with a defeat.

MADISON PLAINS AT WILMINGTON

Wilmington will have the services of Tony Berlin and Steve Wilson to put up against the Golden Eagles Friday night.

News that the two Hurricane starters were suspended for two games proved to be false. Coach Larry Bartram said the two juniors were suspended from the high school for three days after being involved in an incident that was not related to sports.

The three day suspension came on the eve of the Hurricane game with Unioto, and both players had to sit out only that contest.

With Berlin and Williams back in the lineup the Hurricane are better than an even pick over the Golden Eagles, who are tough, but lack the experience.

UNIOTO AT HILLSBORO

Hillsboro is a much better team that its 1-5 league record would indicate, and Unioto is about as good as its 0-5 record would indicate.

Hillsboro's two big guns Tim Fuller and Rick Seeling should have a field day against the Tanks unless coach Dave Warne puts in the stall.

It wouldn't be a bad idea either. In fact, it would be the Tanks only hope.

Unranked Ducks give UCLA scare

AP Sports Writer

Meet college basketball's version of the Keystone Kops — the Oregon Ducks.

"You have to see it to believe it," says UCLA Coach Gene Bartow, who saw it and almost didn't believe it.

The Ducks, who drive everyone crazy with their insane, kamikazi style of play, had the nation's third-ranked team running around in circles for a while Thursday night.

But the Bruins endured 62-61, despite watching the zany Ducks dive for loose balls and leap over press tables in their usual flamboyant manner.

"We made some errors," said Ron Lee, Oregon's high scorer with 17 points. "But we proved tonight that we can beat anybody when we want to go out and play."

A crowd almost as wild as the team cheered on Oregon as the unranked Ducks gave the Bruins fits until the last second. In fact, Oregon had the ball with 17 seconds to go but squandered several opportunities to score the winning basket.

"It was a good win," said Bartow after the Great Escape. "You're supposed to get one like this once in a while on the road."

Four other ranked teams were in action Thursday night as No. 5 Nevada-Las Vegas nipped Seattle 90-89; No. 17 Minnesota stopped Illinois 77-68; Oregon State defeated 18th-ranked Southern Cal 80-70 and 19th-rated

Michigan coasted past Wisconsin 106-81.

Ralph Drollinger and Andre McCarter sparked UCLA in the second half as the Bruins held off the wild Ducks. All the excitement boiled down to the last three minutes.

UCLA had a 57-47 lead with six minutes on the clock but later Oregon's Stu Jackson, Mark Barwig and Greg Ballard closed the gap to 59-53 with 2:45 left. A free throw by Drollinger made it 60-53.

Lee then scored a field goal with 2:30 left to make it 60-55 UCLA and Drollinger responded with another free throw. After UCLA failed to put the ball in play in five seconds, Oregon's Mike Drummond hit two shots from the top of the key, closing the Ducks within 61-59.

With 35 seconds to play, McCarter sank a free throw, then Lee hit a layup with 25 seconds left, bringing Oregon within 62-61. Freshman Dan Mack intercepted UCLA's inbound pass and called time out with 17 seconds left.

Lee dribbled to the baseline and passed to Ballard, who missed an eight-foot bank shot. Drollinger rebounded and was fouled with four seconds left. He missed the shot, and Drummond heaved a desperation shot from half-court at the buzzer, but it bounced off the backboard.

Robert Smith made a key steal and sank four free throws in the final minute as Nevada-Las Vegas beat Seattle.

Ray Williams and Flip Saunders ignited a second-half rally that carried Minnesota past Illinois. Williams finished with 26 points and 12 rebounds to help the Gophers snap a two-game losing streak.

Rocky Smith, a junior college transfer, collected 29 points as Oregon State stunned Southern Cal. It was only the second loss in 13 games for the Trojans while the Beavers improved their record to 8-4.

OSU faces dilemma; Furlow

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State's Fred Taylor faces a coaching dilemma against rapid-scoring Terry Furlow in the Big Ten Conference's regionally-televased game Saturday.

"We've got two defensive choices," said Taylor, his Buckeyes searching for their first conference victory in three tries. The host Spartans are 1-1 in the Big Ten.

"We can try to shut Furlow down and force their other people to score. Or we can make sure the others don't score much and concede him his points," Taylor said.

The 6-foot-4 Michigan State star's 50 points against Iowa Monday night was only the sixth time in conference history a player had reached that plateau. It jumped the 1975 Big Ten scoring king's average to 27.4.

"He drives well, but he has a heckuva outside shooting stroke, too," Taylor marveled over Furlow.

Overall, the Ohio State coach is concerned about the speed of the Spartans, 5-6 to the Buckeyes' 4-6 all-games record.

"Their basic concept is to force people into an uptempo game with them," said Taylor. "There's no way we can get in a shootout with them."

Ohio State will start its same group of center Craig Taylor, forwards Mike Daugherty and Fred Poole and guards Jud Wood and Larry Bolden, the team's scoring leader at 20.5 points. Taylor is averaging 16.2 points.

Winner joins Cincy Bengals as Coach

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Bengals have suddenly become a haven for fired National Football League head coaches.

Charley Winner, dismissed late in the season by the New York Jets, Thursday joined Mike McCormack, fired recently at Philadelphia, as the newest member of the Cincinnati Bengals revamped coaching staff.

Winner, who was also head coach of the St. Louis Cardinals for six years, has been hired a defensive backfield coach. He will work under Howard Brinker, who was elevated to the defensive coordinator position when Chuck Weber resigned a week ago.

McCormack was named last week as the offensive line coach, replacing Bill Johnson, who succeeded Paul Brown as head coach.

Winner, 50, had a 44-44-5 record as a head coach. The Jets let him after only nine games, when the team got off to a 2-7 start.

He met in New York City Thursday night to discuss the upcoming draft.

He called Brinker "one of the finest men in football."

Winner said he had "several places I could have gone but Cincinnati soon appeared to be the best."

Winner served as an assistant with the Baltimore Colts for 12 seasons and joined George Allen's staff at Washington in 1971.

Church League

St. Colmans slipped by McNair Presbyterian Thursday night in one of two Community Education sponsored Church League games.

Dave Bihl tossed in 24 points to pace St. Colmans which moved into a tie with Good Shepherd Lutheran and Gregg Street Church of Christ for the league lead.

Gregg Street blasted First Baptist, 67-37, in the night's other contest as Wes Williams and Larry Mowery combined for 35 points.

McKinley Kirk honored at USTA awards banquet

COLUMBUS — In addition to the naming of Rambling Willie as the "Ohio Harness Horse of the Year" at Wednesday night's USTA District 1 awards banquet, Washington C. H.'s McKinley Kirk was honored for his contributions to harness racing.

Kirk, 79, 336 Rawlings St., will step down as the Trotting Association's District 1 director, a post he has held for nearly 25 years.

The red and white Kirk racing colors are already enshrined in the Harness Racing Hall of Fame in Goshen, N.Y. which is an appropriate tribute to his distinguished and successful racing career.

The successful farmer who turned to harness racing as a hobby drove in his first race in 1944 starting a career which has carded nearly 400 wins and $400,000 in purse money. Most of his wins came behind horses which he bred, broke, and trained at his farm in Fayette County.

Last Wednesday night's USTA tribute was only one of many honors bestowed on Kirk in recent years. He has been honored by the Fayette County Horsemen's Association and a section of the Ohio Trotting Horse Museum has been devoted to his trophies and horses.

Some of Kirk's more outstanding accomplishments have been in developing two-minute horses and stakes winners. Seven of his horses broke the elusive two-minute barrier and he drove the mile in less than 2:00 on 12 occasions making him one of the nation's top amateur drivers.

He has won prestigious stakes races such as the Abbedale, the American Pacing Classic, the Great Midwest Stakes, the Horseman Futurity and the Ohio State Fair classics.

Of his two-minute horses, he lists Great Pleasure as being his favorite.

Kirk has bred, raised, trained and raced four World Champions and four "Ohio Harness Horse of the Year" winners.

Cadillac's Ace wins feature at Latonia

FLORENCE, Ky. (AP) — Cadillac's Ace moved out of fourth at the top of the stretch to win the featured thoroughbred race at Latonia by a length Thursday night.

The winner went the mile in 1:40 4-5 to return $8.80, $4.00 $4.00. Bosuns Stitch, second, paid $3.00 and $3.00. Missy Rae was the show horse at $4.80.

A crowd of 1,659 wagered $183,405.

Bob Howsam attacks reserve clause ruling

CINCINNATI (AP) — Bob Howsam, president and general manager of the World Champion Cincinnati Reds, says "common sense" is needed in sports at the moment or players "will price themselves right out of the business."

Attacking a recent decision by chief negotiator Peter Seitz, he told a Cincinnati sports banquet Thursday night that loss of the reserve clause would endanger the structure of baseball.

THE MANY

ADVANTAGES

OF A FINE

OLDER HOME!

The Bicentennial year is upon us and home buying people have become aware of our heritage and there has been a trend to buying older homes. There are advantages too, especially when its the home that we are offering today, that is located in one of the prime locations in Washington, has all the features of a new home with updated wiring, wall to wall carpeting, new tasteful decorating inside and out but still remaining is the traditional oak woodwork, trim and doors that gives that warm and authentic appearance. But best of all is the spaciousness this home offers with its four bedrooms, living room, formal dining room, family room, kitchen and 1 1/2 baths. The little extras such as the large walk-in closets, the front and rear stairway, the fireplace, entrance foyer, the dry basement makes this house a home that you and your family will enjoy for years to come and yet its priced at only $42,500.00

Dr. Mary At 83 Still Practicing

Associated Press Writer
SMITH, Nev. (AP) — When Dr. Mary Fulstone began making house calls in a rattling pickup truck 55 years ago, the thorny issues physicians now face were nonexistent, but the new hassles aren't slowing her down.

"I suppose I'll practice until I die," said the 83-year-old woman, who has practiced medicine longer than any other Nevada doctor — from the kitchen of her rambling ranch house in rural Smith Valley.

"Doctor Mary" is bothered by spiraling malpractice insurance rates, the ways government-funded health programs operate, the debate over a patient's right to die, and the new doctor's tendency to specialize instead of going into general practice.

But the hassles are overshadowed by the rewards of being a country doctor.

"I've been in on everything in these peoples' lives — the good things and the bad too. It's like being part of each family."

"I guess I should retire sometime, but I don't know when," she said in an interview at her home-office. "We could use another doctor out here, and maybe when that happens, I'll start to edge myself out."

When she started her practice here in 1920, Doctor Mary caught some residents off guard. They wanted a doctor because the only other physician was in Yerington, about 20 miles away, but they weren't expecting a woman.

The ranchers and miners, however, "were glad to have a doctor here for the first time. Now these people have become like a family to me," she said.

Since then, she has seen countless patients, delivered nearly 4,000 babies, and made herself so well known that even telephone operators skip her last name when giving out her phone number.

Along with the doctoring, she raised five children of her own, took an active role in upgrading medical facilities in the area and got herself elected to the state Board of Education. She has been on that panel for 19 years.

She still keeps a full schedule, even though she has had some health problems of her own recently, resulting in operations on her back and on an eye.

Doctor Mary sees patients daily in her home, then sees more patients at the hospital and at her second office in Yerington. On a busy day, she'll handle 30 to 40 patients.

She has seen many changes in her field.

But one new trend — letting fathers into delivery rooms when their children are being born — is nothing new to her.

"It's all the fashion now," she said. "But I used to deliver babies at homes, and the fathers always helped me."

Doctor Mary doesn't see herself as a women's rights advocate even though she has accomplished many of the goals for which women are now pressing.

"I just never have associated myself with the women's lib movement," she said. "My way of thinking is that you get your rights, your needs met, through your own efforts and work."

"If you're busy, you're not restricted because of your sex in the practice of medicine," she added.

"Being a country doctor, I don't always go by the appointment book. People just come here to see me. They know where I'll be."

A WHALE LANDED ON AUTO

PORT ELIZABETH, South Africa (AP) — Francis Lombard of Port Elizabeth has a fishy tale for his insurance agents.

He claims a whale fell on his car, denting the roof and damaging the windshield.

The whale is a fiber-glass model mammal which stands near the entrance to a seaside resort hotel at Plettenberg Bay.

A strong gale recently lifted the whale from the ground and it came crashing down on Lombard's brand new car parked nearby.

FARMERS DON'T DIG METRIC

RACINE, Wis. (AP) — The metric system apparently rates low with farmers, if one is to judge from a recent poll conducted by Wisconsin Agriculturalist, a farm magazine.

Farmers were asked, "Since most countries of the world now use the metric system, it has been suggested that we adopt it." Only 17 per cent said we should adopt it. Sixty-three per cent were against it and 20 per cent were undecided.

The greatest meat eaters in the world (figures include animal organs and poultry) are the people of Uruguay, with an average consumption of 10.93 ounces per person per day in 1964-66. The lowest consumption of meat in the world is 0.16 ounces per person per day in Sri Lanka (formerly Ceylon) in 1968.

Ohio awarded federal funds

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio has been awarded $1,000,315 in federal funds by the U.S. Department of Transportation as an incentive to continue its safe driving program, U.S. Sen. Robert Taft Jr. announced.

Taft said the state's reduced traffic fatality record prompted the award. He added that the grant was the largest given the 17 states qualified to participate in the federal highway safety plan.

Deputies investigate three-vehicle accident

A three-vehicle collision involving a semi-truck and two autos occurred at 6 p.m. Thursday, Fayette County Sheriff's deputies reported today with five additional traffic mishaps.

The accident, which occurred at the intersection of U.S. 35 and Garring-Edgefield Road, resulted when cars driven by Gail C. Albright, 64, Norwood, and William J. Mayor, 45, Mount Sterling, collided. Sheriff's deputies reported the impact knocked Ms. Albright's car into a parked semi-truck driven by Joseph Cabot, 46, Lakewood. Ms. Albright's car was severely damaged, while the semi and other autos incurred moderate damage. No one was hurt in the mishap and no citations were issued, deputies reported.

blamed on icy road conditions by investigating officers.

In Common Pleas Court

Drug sale defendants re-sentenced

Three persons have been resentenced and another sentenced for the first time in Fayette County Common Pleas Court for drug-related violations. Another was sentenced for breaking and entering.

Mr. and Mrs. Danny Hoagland, 401 Peddicord Ave., were resentenced on drug charges. Each had been serving time at a state penal institution prior to resentencing.

Mrs. Hoagland, 31, had been found guilty by a Fayette County petit jury of two counts of possession of marijuana, two counts of possession for sale, and two counts of sale of the hallucinogen. She had been sentenced to a prison term of 20 to 40 years. However, under the new Ohio drug law, the penalty was reduced to a jail term of one to five years.

Although Mrs. Hoagland could have applied for early probation in as little as 30 days under the former sentence, the new law states that the minimum term, one year, must actually be served. The one-to-five sentence was for sale. Her sentences for each count of possession and possession for sale were established at 30 days each, and these will run concurrently with the more severe term.

In addition, Mrs. Hoagland had been sentenced to a prison term of six months to five years in January of 1975 for receiving stolen property which had been suspended. Since the drug violations constituted a violation of the terms of probation, the original sentence was reimposed. It, too, will run concurrently with the most severe drug sentence, and Mrs. Hoagland was returned to the Women's Reformatory at Marysville.

Danny Hoagland, 35, had pleaded guilty to a reduced charge of possession of marijuana for sale after he was arrested for sale of the drug. He had been sentenced to a prison term of 10 to 20 years, but this was reduced to 30 days and a $250 fine under the new code. He had possessed more than 100 grams of marijuana for sale.

Billy Vinion, 722 Peabody Ave., had originally been sentenced to a term of 10 to 20 years after he also pleaded guilty to possession for sale. Since the amount he had had was less than 100 grams, he was fined $100.

Appearing in court for the first time after pleading guilty to possession of the hallucinogen phenacyclidine for sale, John Perine, 18, of 716 Broadway, was sentenced to 60 days in jail and fined $500. Judge Evelyn W. Coffman suspended the jail term, however.

Robert W. Hiser, 18, of Milledgeville, who had been placed on probation in the spring of 1974 for the theft of some 500 pounds of copper wire from the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Co., pleaded guilty Dec. 16 to breaking and entering Jasper Elementary School in Milledgeville. He has been sentenced to a term of one to five years in the Chillicothe Correctional Institute for the latter offense and a prison term of six months to five years was reimposed on the larceny charge. Both sentences will be concurrent.

Data on farm population shows youngs, blacks leave

WASHINGTON (AP) — Numbers of young people and blacks among the nation's farm population declined sharply from 1970 to 1974, although the general farm population went down more slowly than before, the government reported today.

There are signs, however, that the general decline of farm dwellers accelerated again in 1974 and 1975.

A report issued by the Census Bureau and the Agriculture Department showed the farm population dropped by an average of 1.2 per cent each year from 1970 to 1974.

There were 9.7 million farm workers in 1970 compared with 9.3 million in April 1974. Vera Banks, a statistician with the Agriculture Department, said, however, that preliminary figures show a drop to 8.9 million farm workers in 1975, a decline of 8 per cent.

But she said in an interview that one year's figures are not enough to indicate a sure trend.

The 1970-74 report showed that blacks and other racial minorities living on the farm declined in number from 938,000 to 655,000 over the period, an annual drop of 9 per cent. Mrs. Banks said the reason is not clear, but she cited automation in cotton harvesting and the recession, which hits poor black farmers first.

Members of farm families below age 14 declined by 20 per cent from 1970 to 1974, the report said, while the number above 14 remained about the same.

Mrs. Banks said increasing numbers of older farm workers are taking advantage of retirement benefits for which they were never eligible before.

The report said for every 107 males on farms there were 100 women, compared with the ratio in the general population of 93 men for each 100 women.

Mrs. Banks said the figures include some migration from the farms to urban areas.

Stolen auto report probed

A 1963 model Pontiac is being sought by Washington C.H. police officers.

The auto, owned by Paul Souther, was stolen from his 421 W. Court St. residence sometime between 1:30 a.m. and 8:15 a.m. Thursday. Police reported Souther had purchased the car from a Jerry Brady for $180, but never received the title transfer from Brady.

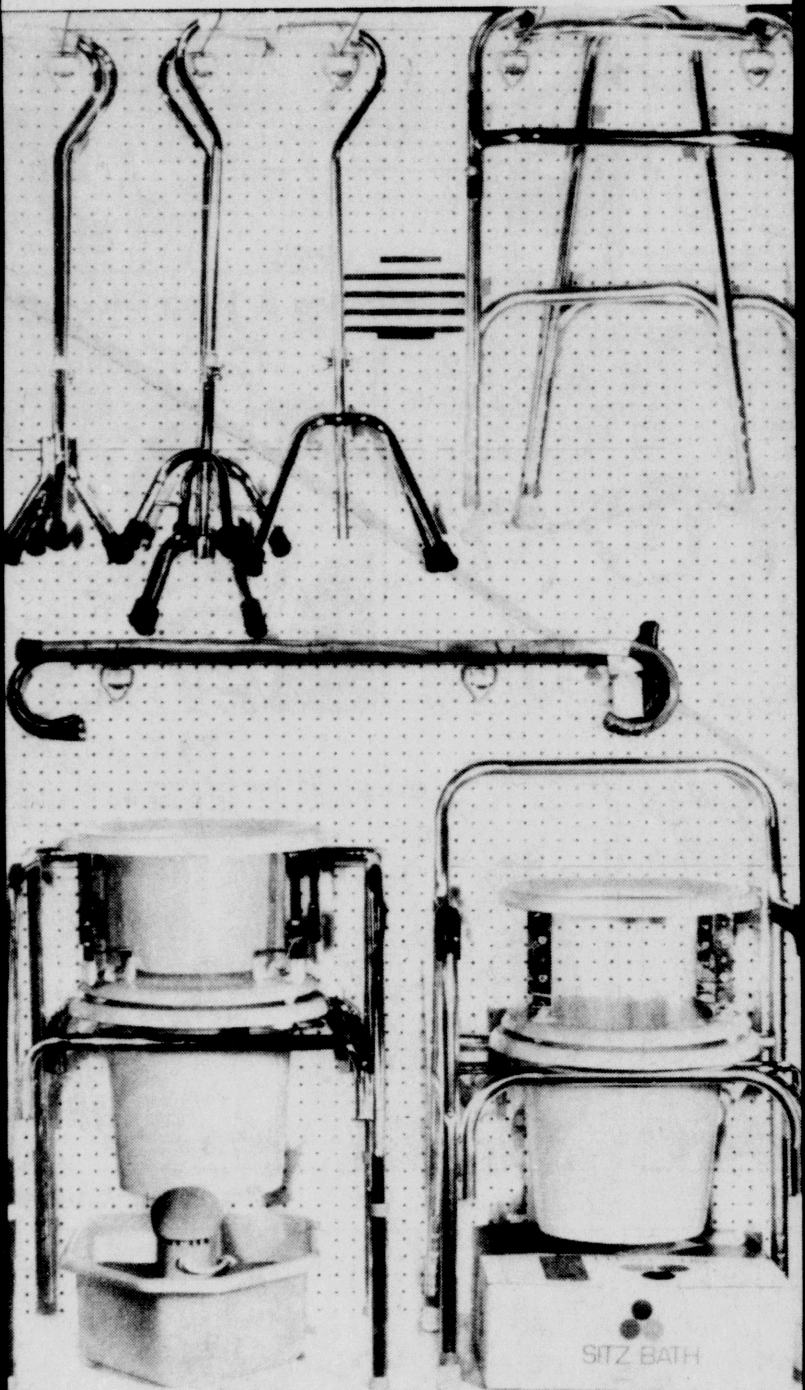

The Fayette County Sheriff's Department reported a citizens band radio theft. The radio was stolen from a car belonging to John W. Workman, 827 Lakeview Ave., sometime between 8:30 p.m. Wednesday and 5:30 p.m. Thursday.

Deputies stated the auto had skidded on ice into a ditch in the vicinity of U.S. 35, southeast of Washington C.H. The radio valued at $160 was stolen while Workman was seeking assistance in getting his car pulled from the ditch.
